Centre asked for entire accounts to be blocked: Twitter to HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

MICRO-BLOGGING site Twitter informed the Karnataka High Court on Monday that the Union government was asking it to block entire accounts of holders rather than just their tweets because of their political content.

Senior counsel for Twitter, Arvind Datar, argued that the micro-blogging site was asked to block entire accounts although Section 69A of the IT Act permitted to only block information through Blocking Orders under the section of the Act.

Besides, about 50-60 per cent of the tweets that the Union government had asked Twitter to block under the orders, were "innocuous" (not harmful or offensive), he said.

He argued that there was no justification in blocking such tweets, and that because of such orders, Twitter's business would be affected.

Datar questioned the legality of the Blocking Orders pertaining to certain tweets on farmers' agitations and alleged mismanagement of Covid-19, asking why it was being ordered to block information when the media could report it.

The High Court was hearing a petition by Twitter against the Central government's orders asking it to block some accounts, URLs and tweets.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

IN a first for a President, Droupadi Murmu inaugurated the world-famous Mysuru Dasara by offering petals to the presiding deity Chamundeshwari atop Chamundi Hills on Monday.

Folk troupes welcomed Murmu, who arrived at Chamundi Hills along with CM Basavaraj Bommai, Governor Thaawarchand Gehlor and other dignitaries.

Though the inauguration was set for Vrischika Lagna between 9.45 am to 10.05 am, there was a four-minute delay. After the inauguration, Murmu called Karnataka a land of spirituality that has continued to showcase cultural heritage through Dasara.

She said the state nurtured Jainism and Buddhism, while the Sringeri Mutt too was set up here by Adi Shankarachārya. Lord Basaveshwara, Akka Mahadevi and Allama Prabhu ensured social equality for all sections and promoted humanity, she added.

Basaveshwara's Anubhava Mantapa had people from all castes and religions, and spread the fragrance of equality to the rest of the world. The woman as a symbol of peace, strength and courage has been depicted through Mahishasura Mardini, while Dasara has integrated people from different sections of society. P4,5

QUIT AS CM, NATH TO TELL GEHLOT

Else, he could be dropped as Gandhi family's pick for Congress prez

SHAHID FARIDI AND RAJESH ASNANI @New Delhi/Jaipur

CONGRESS president Sonia Gandhi on Monday decided to depute senior party leader Kamal Nath to persuade Ashok Gehlot to resign from the post of Rajasthan CM before filing his nomination for the post of the party's national president.

Sources said Kamal Nath has been asked to convey to Gehlot that if he does not resign, he would not be supported by the party high command for presidentship. They said if Gehlot does not heed to Kamal Nath's message he may be asked not to file his nomination papers.

Kamal Nath, who flew in here from Bhopal on Monday, met Sonia at her residence. There was no clear word on whether he will fly to Jaipur to convey her message. Top Congress leaders told this paper that Gehlot's rebellion may not only cost him Congress presidentship but may also lead to his removal from the post of chief minister as he has refused to accept his former deputy Sachin Pilot as his successor.

He has conveyed to party leadership that he would not accept either Pilot or anyone from his camp. He said Pilot and the MLAs who had walked out with him to form a government with the help of the BJP are not acceptable to a large number of Congress MLAs.

Kamal Nath's meeting with Gehlot is the party leadership's last-ditch attempt to seek Gehlot's compliance with its decision to hand over chief ministership to Pilot. Congress MLAs loyal to Gehlot had on Sunday refused to meet the party's central observers Ajay Maken and Mallikarjun Kharge. The central observers were sent to get the MLAs to pass a resolution authorising the Congress president to choose the next CM. MLAs in the Gehlot camp refused to sign the resolution. The party leadership in Delhi feels the MLAs avoided the central observers on the direction of Gehlot.

This is being seen as an open rebellion by Gehlot against the Gandhi family and the party's central leadership. Congress leaders in Delhi said the party has started looking for an alternative candidate for the post of Congress president. There are four days left for the nominations to close.

The CLP meeting, which was called on Sunday, had to be cancelled as more than 90 MLAs loyal to Gehlot threatened to resign. Gehlot loyalists Shanti Dhariwal and Chief Whip Mahesh Joshi are being seen by the high command as the key players in the drama.

Gehlot met Kharge on Monday afternoon. Before leaving for Delhi, Kharge said, "Everyone will have to be on the same page with Congress president's decision. There has to be unity and discipline in the party unit."

PREZ CONVOY CHOKES TRAFFIC IN BENGALURU

Citizens complain of poor planning whenever there is VVIP movement

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PRESIDENT Droupadi Murmu's visit added to the Monday blues of Bengalureans, as thousands of motorists were stuck in a traffic gridlock caused due to the restrictions imposed for the smooth movement of the President's convoy.

The President, who landed at HAL airport, headed to the Raj Bhavan during peak hours on Monday evening. To ensure the safe and smooth movement of her convoy, which zoomed through Old Airport Road, MG Road, Dickenson Road, Kamaraj Road, Cubbon Road and Raj Bhavan Road, the traffic police prevented vehicles from entering these roads. This led to major traffic snarls on these roads, the connecting roads and surrounding localities.

Traffic policemen were seen diverting vehicles to alternative routes. Kumara, a resident of Koramangala, who was headed to Cunningham Road, said the traffic was thrown out of gear at Adugodi, Vellara Junction, Residency Road and MG Road and it took him about 75 minutes to cover a distance of 8 km.

"The traffic is badly hit whenever there is any movement of VIP convoys. It is high time the VIPs use choppers to avoid causing inconvenience to the general public. The authorities concerned should opt for non-peak hours for movement of VIP convoys," Kumara said.

Arjun R, who regularly commutes from Indiranagar to Malleswaram, said the traffic was worst hit near Lido theatre in Ulsoor, Trinity Junction and Artillery Road. "I was so fed up of getting stuck in a traffic jam, that I parked my vehicle at a Metro station and took the train," he added.

Shwetha, who works with a start-up on the Old Airport Road, said she used to reach her home in Uttarahalli in 50 minutes but it took her around 90 minutes on Monday.

As the President will be attending events at HAL, St Joseph's University and Vidhana Soudha on Tuesday, the traffic police have advised people to use alternate roads.

FARMER leaders, who set out on Vidhana Soudha Chalo to press for their demands, were stopped near the city railway station, bundled into waiting police vehicles by armed police teams and detained at police grounds on Monday.

Farmer leader Kurubur Shantakumar said their fight was to ensure minimum support price for their produce, waiver of farm loans and removal of GST on farm products. He said their struggle will continue. National farmer leaders detained included Jagjit Singh Yadava from Punjab, Shivakumar Kakkaji from Madhya Pradesh, Kurubur Shanthakumar, Daivasigamani from Tamil Nadu, KV Biju from Kerala, Abhimanyu Kohar from Haryana, Ramana Gauder from Tamil Nadu, Sewa Singh from Uttar Pradesh, Sachin Mohapatra from Odisha.

Job or startup? Founders talk about dilemma

Bengaluru: During an event hosted by students of the Indian Institute of Management, Bengaluru (IIMB), startup founders spoke on the dilemma of choosing between entrepreneurship and lucrative jobs. Scrap 3-way highway plan, CM told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE harrowing experiences in the aftermath of flooding has prompted Greenpeace India to write a letter to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, demanding that the plan to construct three-layer highways be scrapped due to its unsustainable nature.

"It is also critical that the state government does not use the crisis to build more flyovers or elevated corridors which will be counterproductive to the city and for the citizens. Socially beneficial infrastructure is needed with more equitable allocation of road space for people to access public transport rather than private vehicles," said Avinash Kumar Chanchal, campaign manager for Greenpeace India.

The organisation stressed on long-term solutions to prevent flooding in the city, and reduce traffic congestion. "The unprecedented flooding in Bengaluru in the first week of September inundated 2,000 houses and damaged 22,000 vehicles, according to official statistics. However, the hardships and damages that hundreds of marginalised communities battled is yet to be accounted for. It also exposes the city's lack of planning in dealing with such events," it stated, and demanded a climate action plans by local governments in collaboration with citizens.

They urged that companies and tech parks incentivise their staffers to commute in public transport.

BJP govt didn't clear encroachments: Reddy

Speaking on encroachments in Bengaluru, KPCC working president Ramalinga Reddy said, "During the Congress government from 2013 to 2018, 1,953 encroachments were identified, and about 1,300 encroachments were cleared. The remaining 600 evictions could have been done by the next government, but not a single encroachment was cleared in the past three years. There are 47 lakes in Bommanahalli zone, of which 196 acres are encroached, 1,845 acres in 52 tanks in Mahadevapura area, 133 acres of 28 tanks in Yelahanka, and 160 acres of 37 lakes in RR Nagar are encroached."

NGO moves HC on parallel probe into flooding

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

SAMAJA Parivarthana Samudaya moved the Karnataka High Court, alleging that the Karnataka Lokayukta violated the law by conducting parallel proceedings on the issue of encroachment of storm water drains, on a complaint by Bagmane Developers Pvt Ltd. When the matter being heard on Monday, a division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty said the matter will be heard on September 28, 2022.

In a PIL by Samaja Parivarthana Samudaya, it was alleged that the issues raised by the real estate firm with regard to demolition of compound wall will come under the jurisdiction of court and not under the Lokayukta.

The matter was adjourned to enable petitioner's counsel to rectify the procedural defects pointed out by the office of the registry. The senior counsel, representing the petitioner, argued that the parallel proceedings conducted by the Lokayukta is violation of Section 8 of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act.

Survey till today, dozers to roll tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Special Commissioner Trilok Chandra said that Palike and Revenue Department officials will continue their survey of identifying properties encroaching drains on Monday and Tuesday, and then put bulldozers to work from Wednesday.

BBMP has drawn flak from citizens alleging that they were being selective in their demolition drive. While a portion of few houses were demolished during the 12-day drive, Wipro, Bagmane Tech Park were allowed to remove the encroachments on their own. In some places like AECS Layout, Munekolalu, and Greenwood Regency where encroachments were cleared, the Palike did not clear the debris.

With the survey work underway, the debris is blocking drain, resulting in dirty water stagnating. "There are children and senior citizens, and open drains can prove dangerous. We have requested the Palike to clear the debris, but they are yet to do so. Now, after rain, dirty water has stagnated on the premises as the drains are clogged. A person said that the bulldozers are being repaired, the debris cannot be removed," said Ramesh J, manager, Greenwood Regency. "The debris will be cleared on Tuesday," Assistant Executive Engineer Markaindaiah, told TNIE.

Alone in Arkavathy Layout with temporary infra

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE only house in Arkavathy Layout's 18th Block at Gedalahalli is of Subramanya Reddy, who lives with his wife, their son, and daughter-in-law.

After trying since 1986 for a BDA site, Reddy managed to get it on his eighth attempt in 1998, and built the house in 2017. For them it's like staying on an island off Hennur Main Road, thanks to an uncompensated land loser who wields control over the area.

Recently, a miscreant chased his pregnant daughter-in-law inside the Layout while she was returning home, said Reddy, a former aerospace engineer, adding that she fell down and suffered minor injuries. For the temporary electricity connection, the family has to shell out Rs 4,000 per month and Rs3,000 for water tankers.

His wife Chandrakala said that overnight a wall sprung up blocking the entrance to the Layout a year ago. "I was leaving at 4am to teach yoga and found the exit blocked," she said. The family now uses another entrance.

Rama Reddy, a BWSSB contractor, who built the wall, said, "Yes, I have built that wall. I will neither allow BDA officials nor site owners to build their houses on the Layout. A total of 14.5 acres of our family's land has been taken which includes 2.75 acres of my property. I have not received compensation." A BDA official conceded failure to provide alternative land to Reddy.

PETER VIDAL

27TH September: Cancerian influences are in the background, which could be good news for Cancerians - but only if they exert suitable restraint on their feelings and behaviour. That goes for the rest of us, though to a lesser extent. The temptation will be to go wild and blow a major opportunity. The alternative is to stay cool and reap the rewards in due course.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's stars are a direct extension of yesterday's, indicating that there will be few new developments to cope with. If you're starting to run into the mud at work, don't worry; take the opportunity to have some time off and get a fresh perspective on your life.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If you have ever wondered why you experience bouts of financial indecision, it's because it's all in the stars! Actually, there is a way out if you would just put your fears and worries to one side and stop allowing your feelings to interfere with your good sense.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon's continued alignment with your sign is a direct indication that the world lies at your feet, speaking metaphorically of course. The fact is, though, that a mighty act of self-sacrifice may be necessary if you are to make the most of partners' support.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your mystical aspirations are being stirred up and this process creates a sort of 'divine discontent' leaving you deeply ambitious. You're reluctant to settle for anything less than the best - but you should consider whether a temporary compromise would be a good idea.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A number of very powerful alignments have remained in vital areas of your chart, in spite of the fact that the main gaggle of planets has moved on. You should therefore keep up your guard and resolve never to be caught out again, at least, not by the same person!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
If there are choices to be made, try to clarify your ideas today, and recognise that change may not only be necessary but also desirable. Devote additional time to professional responsibilities, and don't shrink from taking on new tasks. Do your best!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Moon makes a helpful relationship to your sign, and it should be responsible for a fair amount of emotional support. It may therefore not matter that you might forget a couple of important engagements or promises! After all, it's about time that other people shared the responsibility.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Social stars do seem to be strong and growing stronger, an indication that you can find solace in other people's arms. The one condition seems to be that old friends will prove a good deal more reliable than new. You're so much happier with people you can trust.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Professional commitments will soon take over, but even though there are definite indications of hard work ahead, you are about to change your mind. You might decide that you have better things to do than waste your time on people who don't deserve it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There is still every sign of the need for hard work, which may not be very exciting but is no less necessary for all that. Mercury, planet of the mind, will soon make you realise that traditional values were always the best, in spite of what you thought.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
As sober Saturn gradually shifts its position, so your grip on certain vital ties and commitments may weaken. However, this may be no bad thing if it enables you to start all over again with a fresh plan. The main point to remember is that all future actions must be firmly rooted in the past.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Don't listen to what partners say, watch what they do. If you can separate thought from action and word from deed, you'll realise that there is an internal consistency in their actions, even though they're completely unaware of it! In spite of appearances, it will soon all seem to make good sense!

Jha was terminated for misconduct: IAF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Indian Air Force (IAF) has said that the training of Under Trainee Flying Officer (UTFO) Ankit Kumar Jha, who was found dead on Air Force Technical College (AFTC) premises in Jalahalli, was terminated on September 20, 2022, following allegations of harassment against him by a fellow woman trainee officer on June 30, 2022.

In a media statement, the IAF said it is extending full cooperation in the investigations. Jha, 27, was reportedly found dead at the AFTC on September 21, 2022.

"The deceased UTFO had joined IAF in February 2021 and was undergoing training at AFTC. His training had been terminated on September 20, 2022, and his father was informed about it. Termination of training was the result of recommendations made by a Court of Inquiry (COI), which was instituted following a complaint by a fellow woman trainee officer against the UTFO on June 30, 2022. It had been established that the UFTO had committed certain acts of misconduct. The inquiry proceedings were duly examined at multiple levels before being approved at Air HQ, as per established procedure on the subject," the IAF statement said. "A post-mortem was conducted on September 23, 2022. The report is awaited. A CoI by IAF is underway to establish the circumstances leading to the death of the UTFO. On September 24, 2022, his kin visited AFTC. They were briefed about the incident," the press note added.

Following Ankit's death, his brother Aman Jha had filed a complaint with the jurisdictional Gangammanagudi police station. The police have registered a case of murder under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) against six AFTC staff. Further investigations are on.

CIRCLE Police Inspector of Kalaburagi (Rural) Srimant Illala, who sustained serious injuries after he was attacked by members of a ganja mafia on the Maharashtra-Karnataka border late on Friday night, was airlifted to Manipal Hospital in Bengaluru on Monday morning.

The air ambulance arrived at the Kalaburagi airport on Sunday evening. As per plan, doctors attending on Illala checked his health again on Monday morning before okaying his airlifting. An ambulance carried Illala to the airport at 9.30 am and zero traffic on the stretch was ensured.

Kalaburagi MP Dr Umesh Jadhav and Kalaburagi (Rural) MLA Basavaraj Mattimudu were present at the airport. Three doctors, wife of the police officer and son also went in the air ambulance to Bengaluru, where Illala was admitted to Manipal Hospital around noon. On Friday evening, Illala had led a team of 10 policemen to Tururi-Honnali village to arrest those illegally growing and selling ganja. While they were searching for the accused, 40-50 miscreants attacked Illala with clubs taking advantage of the dark and escaped. Illala, who sustained injuries on the face, chest and stomach, fell unconscious. He was brought to Kalaburagi and was admitted at United Hospital on Saturday morning. Though Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and DGP Praveen Sood had passed instructions to airlift the officer, doctors advised against it as Illala's blood pressure was fluctuating.

3 missing girls traced in TN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THREE high school girls of a private institution in Fraser Town, who had gone missing 20 days ago, were traced in Chennai. The girls had taken shelter in a house, and reportedly taken up some work. However, the reason for them going to Chennai is yet to be ascertained.

The girls had gone missing on September 6.

They were studying in a private school on Promenade Road in Pulakeshinagar. Of the three students, two are aged 15, while one girl is 16. Two are school hostellers, while one girl is a day scholar.

However, the girls are said to have left behind a note, saying they have problems at home and are not interested in studies.

The parents had protested, blocking the road in front of the school a week later.The parents alleged that their daughters were humiliated by the school principal and teachers, saying that they were "slum people". Upset over this, their daughters have gone missing, the parents alleged during the protest.

Three police teams had searched for them at Velankanni in Tamil Nadu, Kerala and other neighbouring states.

Wife, family forced kid to consume alcohol, says father

A 45-year-old ex-Armyman filed a case before Kothanur police, alleging that his wife and her relatives forced his seven-year-old daughter to consume alcohol. Police registered a non-cognisable case against seven of the accused. The complainant, who lives in Chennai, is separated from his wife, and his daughter lives with her. He recently noticed status messages on the social media accounts of his wife and daughter, which had photographs of the family at a pub and hosting parties at home. He claimed that his daughter was forced to drink beer but she had refused, saying she couldn't bear its smell. The girl had spoken about the incident to her father, when he met her in Bengaluru on May 27. Unable to tolerate his daughter being forced to consume alcohol on several occasions, he decided to file a case. "I got a shock when my daughter revealed details about the incident and also shared some photos, which I have shared with Kothanur police as evidence. They did not even spare the pet dog at home, and gave him alcohol too," he claimed.

New deadline for state to complete TP/ZP poll process

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court directed the State Government to complete the exercise of delimitation in Taluk and Zilla Panchayats, and provide reservation to SC, ST, OBC and other categories within an additional 12 weeks, to hold elections.

A division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed the order while disposing of the interlocutory application filed by the state government, seeking modification of the order dated May 24, 2022.

The State Election Commission filed the writ petition seeking inter alia relief of declaration that the provisions of the Karnataka Gram Swaraj and Panchayat Raj (Amendment) Act, 2021, are unconstitutional. The petitioner also sought direction to the state government to commence the process of election to all Taluk and Zilla Panchayats, in keeping with the delimitation notification dated March 30, 2021, and reservation notification dated July 1, 2021.A high court bench, by an order dated May 24, 2022, directed the state government to complete the exercise of delimitation of Taluk and Zilla Panchayats, and reservation to ST, SC, OBC and other categories within 12 weeks.

The Delimitation Commission had sent a communication dated September 19, 2022, to the state government, seeking extension of three months' time for completing the process of delimitation. Thereafter, the government is required to carry out the exercise of reservation. AG Prabhuling K Navadagi submitted that the state government is making the effort to complete the delimitation process as well as provide reservation expeditiously. After hearing KN Phanindra, counsel for the petitioner, the order dated May 24, 2022, which provides for time limit of 12 weeks, was modified by the court with a further 12 weeks.

CRIME PATROL

Couple held for robbing car driver

The Yelahanka New Town police have arrested a couple for stealing a car and two mobile phones. The accused are Manjunath alias Meke Manja (27) and his wife Vedavathi alias Jyothi (25). The police said the alleged incident took place on the night of September 5 when the victim, Shivashankar R, a car driver, was waiting for customers near Nagenahalli Gate. A couple approached him and hired his car. However, Shivashankar was feeling drowsy and he slept in the passenger seat asking manjunath to drive. "When he woke up, the passenger who was driving claimed he was a rowdy. He later snatched his two phones and escaped with the car," police said.

NEP DESIGNED TO FOSTER S&T: MURMU

'Innovation in cutting-edge fields will make India Vishwa Guru'

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH
@ Dharwad

President Droupadi Murmu welcomed by chairperson of Board of Governors of IIIT Dharwad, Sudha Murty, on Monday

YOUNGSTERS should be given skill-based technical education to help them pursue R&D to take the country towards development. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 has been designed to give priority to science and technology to make the country strong and stable, said President Droupadi Murmu here on Monday.

Inaugurating the newly built campus of the Indian Institute of Information Technology (IIIT)-Dharwad at Sattur near Dharwad, she said R&D, new innovations in artificial intelligence, IT-BT and nanotechnology will help the country grow and become a Vishwa Guru of knowledge.

Only when biotechnology, nanotechnology and neurosciences are integrated innovations occur in various fields and such developments should help the common man too. "The country and the world are changing fast and people are experiencing innovations of a digital India. There is a need to innovate and conduct more research," she said.

"I have been told that a humanoid robot that speaks Indian languages to help patients and the elderly is being developed here." she said.

Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot said North Karnataka is becoming a hub of engineering, medical, agricultural and legal education. By implementing NEP-2020, the Centre is prioritising education and skills of students. The youth should make this country self-reliant, he added.

Technology should improve the living condition of human beings. The population is not a curse and can be turned into a strength, like it has been done by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, he added.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said, "Our strength is not capital, our strength is human capability."

The state and Union governments will give required facilities to IIIT-Dharwad to start M.Tech and other new courses. Every year, 2,000 students should pass out from this institute, he advised.

Union minister Pralhad Joshi said there is a demand for Indian students across the world. That is the reason, the Centre, led by Modi, opened more premier institutes like IITs, IIITs, IIMs and AIIMS centres. "Information and technology will change even poor people's lives. By implementing Direct Benefit Transfer, the Centre has been extending financial aid directly to the needy people. This happened due to technology," he added.

Earlier, Sudha Murty, chairperson of the Board of Governors of IIIT Dharwad, explained how the campus has been built over the last seven years.

Prez to inaugurate HAL engine facility today

ENS @ Bengaluru

PRESIDENT Droupadi Murmu will inaugurate HAL's 'Integrated Cryogenic Engine Manufacturing Facility' (ICMF) in Bengaluru on Tuesday. The facility will boost self-reliance in the manufacturing of hi-thrust rocket engines and cater to rocket engine manufacturing under one roof for ISRO.

The facility is set up over an area of 4500 sqm housing over 70 hi-tech equipment and testing facilities for manufacturing Cryogenic (CE20) and Semi-cryogenic (SE2000) engines of Indian Space Launch Vehicles, read a statement issued by HAL. Cryogenic engines are the widely used engines the world over in launch vehicles. In 2013, an MoU was signed with ISRO for establishing the facility for manufacturing of Cryogenic Engine modules at HAL, Aerospace Division, and it was subsequently amended in 2016 for setting up of ICEMF with an investment of Rs 208 crore. "The Aerospace Division entering into the manufacture of Cryogenic Engines is a major step in technology up-gradation cum modernisation," the release added.

The commissioning of all the critical equipment for manufacturing and assembly requirements is completed. The pre-production activities have also commenced. HAL will start realising the modules by March 2023.

Prez arrives for Dasara, draped in Mysore silk

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

PRESIDENT Droupadi Murmu arrived in Mysuru to inaugurate the Dasara festivities, draped in a Mysore Silk saree with a rich pallu and golden lace that was made in a day at Karnataka Silk Industries Corporation Limited unit in Mysuru.

The district administration, which invited the President for the Dasara function, chose to present a white silk saree. The officials chose K2 design white saree with a rich pallu and gold lace. The staff took a day to give a final finish to the saree, which weighs around 1kg and costs Rs 69,396 (with GST).

The delegation led by District Minister ST Somashekar and others presented the invite and a Mysore Silk saree. The KSIC authorities were delighted when they saw President Murmu draped in the saree.

The KSIC unit, Mysuru, has turned into a centre of attraction with many bureaucrats and politicians from across the country making it a point to visit when in the city. It may be recalled that Union Minister Nitin Gadkari, who was holidaying with his family for a week in Kodagu and Mysuru, had also visited the unit.

Let's strive to make K'taka a welfare state: CM

MYSURU: "Let us pray for peace and prosperity of the state. We all shall strive for the overall development of Karnataka and make it a welfare state," said chief minister Basavarj Bommai, here on Monday. At the inauguration of Mysuru Dasara, he said this year's Dasara is special as it is being celebrated in a big way after two years of Covid pandemic. He said, "There is a need to make the state strong socially and and economically, and we can also grow in education and spirituality. We need to uplift the poor and take the state towards development. The working class people, including labourers, farmers and the general public, are celebrating the festival in their households and we need to pray for the prosperity of all." He said, "Heeding our prayers, there has been good rain and good yield, taking the state on the path to progress. It is a moment of pride to have President Droupadi Murmu inaugurate the Dasara this year which is a rare and historic moment. After becoming the President, she is coming to Karnataka for the first time, which is also a matter of pride," he said. Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, Union ministers Pralhad Joshi, and Shobha Karandlaje, among others were present.

MURMU LAUDS STATE'S STRIDES IN IT SECTOR

RANI Abbakka and Rani Chennamma, who fought against the British, are a source of inspiration to women, she said. She lauded the state government's efforts in improving the quality of education, building better rural roads through the Prime Minister Gramsadak Yojana and contributing to the development of the country.

She said Karnataka, a leader in IT, attracted 53 per cent of all foreign direct investment received by the country in 2021-22.

The state also tops in the innovation index of Niti Aayog's sustainable Development Goals India Index 2020-21, she added.

Meanwhile, scion of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family, Yaduveer Krishna Dutta Chamaraja Wadiyar, came out in a procession accompanied by palace elephants and staff, and offered puja to the golden throne. Dressed in the traditional attire, he ascended the throne at the private durbar at the Durbar Hall of Mysore Palace.

Noted lawyers roped in to fight Wakf's cases

ENS @ Mangaluru

THE Wakf Board has engaged well-known lawyers to fight its cases in courts to reclaim the land encroached by "powerful people", Karnataka Wakf Board Chairman Shafi Saadi said on Monday.

Saadi said that after he became chairman, it was found that one of the reasons for encroachment of Wakf properties was the failure of its legal cell, since the advocates on the panel were not prioritising fighting the board's cases. During the last Wakf Board meeting, Saadi said they decided to engage senior lawyers. Accordingly, he said senior advocates DLN Rao, Ashok Harnahalli, Jayakumar Patil and others have been engaged to fight on behalf of the board. Rao has been handed over three cases, including the Windsor Manor property case.

He added, "Even if the Wakf Board wins 50 per cent of the cases, it needn't depend on government funds to run. The board is spending over Rs 70 crore to safeguard the reclaimed properties by constructing compound walls."

To a query on the Anwar Manippady report on Wakf Board land encroachment, Saadi said he welcomes any probe, including by the CBI or Lokayukta. Further, he said the amount of land actually encroached upon is far more than what is reported in the Manippady report.

Cabinet expansion: CM may visit Delhi this week

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai is likely to visit New Delhi this week to discuss cabinet expansion with the top brass of the BJP. Last week, Bommai had said they are awaiting the legislature session to end, which accordingly concluded on Friday.

The CM had stated that BJP central leaders are also keen on expanding the cabinet. Two ministers in his cabinet, Ramesh Jarkiholi and KS Eshwarppa, had resigned and Minister Umesh Katti passed away. Now, Bommai is holding several big portfolios, along with his earlier portfolios of Finance and Bengaluru Development. At present, Bommai also holds Water Resources, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, and Food and Civil Supplies, besides Forest.

Sources close to the CM said with hardly seven months left for the Assembly polls, and when the Congress is getting aggressive in its campaigns against the BJP government, Bommai is fire-fighting with too many posts to handle. "His hands are full. Even the party high command is watching. Bommai was waiting for the session to end. He is likely to visit Delhi this week. At present, he is busy with President Murmu's programmes," sources said.

Also, if the BBMP polls are announced, the CM, being the Bengaluru development minister, has to focus on the state capital too. The date, however, is not finalised. "The CM is waiting for approval from the party leaders in Delhi," sources said. Meanwhile, the cabinet expansion looks certain and the list of aspirants is only growing.

CD case: HC tells SIT, govt to give submissions

PTI @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Monday directed the SIT and the state government to furnish written submissions in the petition challenging the probe in the alleged video-leak extortion case of former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi.

Advocate Indira Jaising, representing the alleged victim, informed the court that as far as her knowledge goes, the other parties have not presented the written submissions yet. Even the translated copy of the 'B' Report filed by the SIT has not been provided, she said. Justice Sunil Dutt Yadav, who is hearing the petition, said, "I don't intend to hear the arguments till the submissions are made. There cannot be any more delay in submitting written submissions. I have given enough opportunities." In the order, the court said, "The counsel appearing for the petitioner has submitted that the written submission of their side has been filed. All the other parties, including the SIT and state, to file their synopsis and written submissions to enable the petitioners also to be aware of the issues on hand and would also assist the amicus curiae as regards to the stand of the parties."

A sexual assault complaint was filed against Jarkiholi after a video got leaked and telecast on some news channels in February 2021. It led to his resignation as minister. Jarkiholi filed a counter-complaint alleging that the video was leaked to blackmail him. The alleged victim and two others were accused by him.

'Payfarmer' first: Raitha Sangha highlights ryots' woes

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

IN a spinoff from the Congress 'PayCM' poster drive on corruption in Karnataka, the farmers' organisation Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha launched a 'Payfarmer' campaign on Monday, demanding suitable prices for sugarcane.

'Payfarmer accepted here, Rs 4,500 per tonne for sugarcane' reads the poster created by the Darshan faction of KRRS. Darshan Puttannaiah is former MLA and KRRS leader K S Puttannaiah's son.

"The Congress, BJP and other parties are involved in mudslinging with the poster war, but our campaign is in the interest of farmers. We demand Fair Remunerative Price (FRP) for sugarcane, which is between Rs 2,500 and Rs 2,800 per tonne in Karnataka, and Rs 3,500 in Uttar Pradesh," Darshan told TNIE.

Members of the Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha paste 'Payfarmer' posters on a KSRTC bus in Mandya on Monday | EXPRESS

Raitha Sangha members, while launching the 'Pay Farmer' campaign at Mandya, pasted posters on KSRTC buses so that awareness spreads across the state. If the government does not respond to their demand, they warned of 'rasta roko' during the Mysuru Dasara festivities.

Legendary leader Prof M D Nanjundaswamy's son Pacche, welcoming the 'Payfarmer' poster campaign by farmers, said sugar factories get a profit of over Rs 10,000 per tonne through various byproducts like molasses, hence FRP of Rs 4,500 per tonne is justifiable.

Raitha Sangha leader Kuruburu Shanthakumar informed TNIE that state owned factories owed Rs 200 crore to sugarcane farmers in Karnataka. "The FRP is Rs 3,050 per tonne, and should be hiked to at least Rs 3,500," he said.

"Priority is to #payfarmer and not #paycm #paymadam (sic)," tweeted Madhuchandan SC, CEO and founder of Organic Mandya, in response to the Congress-BJP tussle over corruption. Interestingly, Madhuchandan is an MLA aspirant from Mandya and likely to take the electoral plunge in the 2023 assembly polls on a Raitha Sangha ticket.

Chip plant in Mysuru to provide 21k jobs: Nirani

MYSURU: Stating that the first semiconductor plant will be established in Mysuru in the next three years, Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani on Monday said that the facility will provide over 6,000 direct and 15,000 indirect jobs. Speaking to the gathering after inaugurating the Industrial Dasara, organised for the first time as part of the Mysuru Dasara, here on Monday, the minister said that to provide the best ecosystem and incentives to semiconductor companies, the state government has come up with a new semiconductor policy, which is a first-of-its-kind in the country. "The multinational ISMC firm has agreed to invest over Rs 23,000 crore for the semiconductor plant in Mysuru, which is aimed at making this tier-2 city an industrial hub. An MoU has already been signed, and by the next three years, it will be fully established," he said. He also revealed that on November 2-4, the state will host the Global Investors' Meet in Bengaluru.

'Siddu reason behind spike in terror activities'

BAGALKOT: "The main reason behind the increase terror activities is opposition party leader Siddaramaiah," alleged state BJP president Nalinkumar Kateel here on Monday. Before taking part at a party convention in Ilkal on Monday, he said, "Congress and Siddaramaiah are the two main reasons for the surge in terror activities in the state. When he was at the helm in the state, he released over 2,000 people accused of involving in anti-national activities. When Congress is not in power, it creates communal tension and disturbance in society." He said, "The National Investigation Agency has initiated action against the Social Democratic Party of India and Popular Front of India for their alleged involvement in anti-national and terrorist activities in the country. The Centre will not spare anyone who is behind such activities. The second highest arrests have been made from Karnataka. This is because of wrong policies formulated during the Siddaramaiah government."

JDS may hit campaign trail on Rajyotsava Day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the national parties -- BJP and Congress – already in election mode going into the 2023 Assembly polls, the regional JDS is likely to hit the campaign trail on November 1-- the Kannada Rajyotsava Day.

Former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy, who had visited New Delhi recently, where he met Bihar CM Nitish Kumar, and later also met Telangana CM K Chandrashekar Rao, has chalked out a plan of his own. Following Rao's suggestion, Kumaraswamy reposrtedly met a poll strategist in Delhi, said a source, adding, "While Kumaraswamy was in fact advised to meet the strategist, logistically and financially, the JDS is unable to meet the required expenses."

"We will resume the 'Pancharatna' programme with the blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari at Mysuru. I am not in a hurry like the national parties. Once the air is clear follwing Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's Karnataka leg of Bharat Jodo Yatra, I will launch JDS' own campaign," said the former chief minister, after he held a meeting with his party's office-bearers on Monday. It may be noted that the JDS launched 'Pancharatna' last year, promising delivery of goods to the people of Karnataka across various fronts, including health, education, irrigation and employment.

Referring to the Congress' 'PayCM' campaign against the Basavaraj Bommai government, Kumaraswamy clarified that he will not welcome such campaigns, which he stated are in bad taste. "Was there no corruption when the Congress was in power? Instead of indulging in such a negative campaign, the Opposition parties should tell people what change they intend to bring," he suggested.

At the meeting, Kumaraswamy told office-bearers to tour constituencies and connect with people. He also hinted at electing a national president for the party, but did not clarify whether it is a formality to elect the JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda or bring in a new face.

Stalin warns DMK cadre against 'toxic forces'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

WARNING that communal forces are desperately attempting to gain a foothold in Tamil Nadu and are creating confusion among the masses, Chief Minister MK Stalin warned DMK leaders to exercise restraint when speaking. In a statement, the DMK president advised party cadre not to "give any opening to venomous forces working directly and indirectly with malicious intentions".

Stalin's caution comes after speeches by key party leaders have drawn criticism from BJP and right-wing outfits in recent weeks. Speaking on the issue for the first time, Stalin cautioned leaders and said the speeches of party members, ministers, legislators and MPs could be taken out of context by adversaries, "who would stoop to any level to discredit the regime". Guiding functionaries on how to respond to the "campaign" of right-wing forces, Stalin said, "Our journey is long. We have a lot of responsibility. We will implement our plans. Let's take our welfare initiatives to the people who will give a befitting reply to those forces." He added that former CM CN Annadurai launched the DMK with the lofty ideals of achieving an egalitarian society on the principles of social justice, self-respect and rationalism. For over half a century, the late CM M Karunanidhi sustained the DMK as a people's movement that restored the rights of the oppressed, and strived to ensure opportunities to all. To counter the Opposition's attack against the party, he recalled the famous saying of rationalist leader 'Periyar' EV Ramasamy: "One can fight a thousand persons who have dignity but not one without any dignity."

Recently, several DMK leaders have been assailed by saffron outfits.

POLICE CUSTODY OF S'MOGGA TERROR SUSPECTS EXTENDED

SHIVAMOGGA: The police custody of the two arrested terror suspects, with alleged links with banned terrorist organisation ISIS, has been extended by five days till September 30. The custody of the two accused, Maaz and Syed Yasin, was to end on Monday (September 26), and was extended by the 3rd JMFC court here on Monday. Shivamogga Rural police took the two to McGann Hospital for medical check up before producing them before the court. Shivamogga SP Lakshmiprasad said the extension of the custody will help the police in its probe. "We will also be questioning those known to the accused and have been serving notices to them", he said. When asked about the prime accused Shariq, Lakshmiprasad said, "We have no concrete information about him, but are looking for clues," he said. The SP clarified that no operations have been conducted nor any arrests made in Koppal. ENS

Iconic Hampi monument, birthplace of Dasara, faces neglect

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

LOCAL residents have long been complaining that the original site in Hampi where Naada Habba, popularly known as Mysuru Dasara began, is being neglected. Their demand is that the iconic Mahanavami Dibba monument should be lit up and awareness boards about its glorious past must be displayed.

Built in 16th century by kings of the Vijayanagara empire, the Mahanavami Dibba was the centre of attraction from where the king and his family used to watch the Dasara parade. The king used to alight from his elephant on the mighty structure to join other members of the royal family. The Dasara parade of Hampi was similar to the present-day Dasara, but had an additional attraction of military might of the Vijayanagara kingdom.

After the fall of Vijayanagara empire in 1565, the Wadiyars of Mysuru who were earlier part of the Vijayanagara kingdom, carried forward the tradition in Mysuru which has come to be known as the state festival of Karnataka. Annually, lakhs of people visit Mysuru where Dasara is celebrated for 10 days. Activists in Hampi say the government must take up programmes during Navaratri to keep the ancient tradition alive.

"We have been demanding for years that the government must recognise and celebrate the story of Mahanavami Dibba of Hampi as it is the original site of Dasara. Historical records show that the Mysuru kings carried forward the tradition of Vijayanagara kings," said a social activist.

An official of the Hampi Management Authority points out there were plans earlier to organise celebrations at the monument during Dasara.

"But a certain section of historians had opposed the idea due to the sensitive structure of the monument that was built in 1513 AD. However, there should be programmes involving various government agencies, including the tourism department, to popularise the monument which gave birth to Dasara in the state," the official said.

ANOTHER GOVERNMENT MOVE LOOKING TO TAME MESSAGING APPS

The new Draft Telecom Bill has opened Pandora's Box by proposing that over-the-top (OTT) Whatsapp, Telegram and Signal will need a license to operate as they offer both text and call services. Telecom service providers want OTT calling and texting apps under the licensing regime, as the latter provides the same services as the former. While the draft bill is still far from becoming a law and the extent of restrictions that may be put on these apps is still unknown, the government is certainly planning to finally put the OTT service providers on a leash. The move raises concern on multiple fronts. Besides privacy and transparency, the decision to bring OTT platforms under a licensing regime could also undermine innovations.

The move should be seen in the context of the government's tussle with messaging app Whatsapp on the 'traceability' of chats, with the latter refusing to let the government know the origin of messages. The government is in favour of regulating these apps for 'national security' and 'public interest'. However, activists take these claims with a pinch of salt, arguing the government may use these regulations to crush dissent. Whatsapp has moved court against the government, claiming that asking the messaging app to trace the chats is an attack on people's privacy.

On its latest proposal to ask OTT messaging apps to seek a license to operate in India, the government might say it gave in to the long-pending demand of telecom service providers. Still, it might just be the right excuse for the government to have better control over these apps. Apart from privacy concerns, the requirement for a license may make it cumbersome for tech companies and many start-ups, to develop and innovate these apps. The cost of business and compliance would go up, making it commercially unviable to run those apps, and they may be forced to charge users for the services that were free until now. Even if there is a need to regulate these apps, the extent of the regulations could make and mar them. The good news, though, is that the government has a difference of opinion with the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (Meity) that is opposing the Department of Telecommunication's proposal to bring these apps under the licensing regime. This gives some hope that the actual law might be a watered-down version of the draft bill.

ONUS ON TIRKEY TO LEAD HOCKEY INDIA CHARGE

Hockey India (HI) could not have been in better hands. A modern-day great, Dilip Tirkey is the first-ever player to head the administration of the game's national body which came into existence in 2008. The country's most-capped player, he comes with an impeccable track record. The 44-year-old has his task cut already. Tirkey played in an era when Indian hockey had hit a low and fought hard to revive the game.

With the experience of 412 international matches and three Olympic appearances, he is aware the country needs more artificial turfs apart from focused programmes in talent scouting, training, and sports science, so that the next generation of players are fit to take on extremely competitive teams. He also wants to focus on the National Games, and fuel passion back at the grassroots in Punjab, Tamil Nadu, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra and Uttar Pradesh, which have produced gems for the country. His stint as chairperson of the Odisha Hockey Promotion Council will also come handy as he played a key role when the Naveen Patnaik-led government threw its might behind the game's revival.

Tirkey's ascent to the game's national body also signals Odisha establishing itself as the hockey hub. How can one forget the Odisha CM's gesture of a ₹150 crore five-year sponsorship for the national teams when Sahara pulled out in 2018, leaving HI at its wit's end? Now ready to host back-to-back the Men's Hockey World Cup, the state is building India's biggest hockey stadium in Rourkela. The government is also starting 20 training centres with artificial turfs across Odisha. While it is pumping in ₹875.78 crore for sports infrastructure in Bhubaneswar and Rourkela, a high-performance centre in the state capital, operational since 2019, has been driving the elite players' programme, having roped in experts. Exclusive sports hostels for hockey apart, the Odisha government has plans to introduce dedicated academies for other sports disciplines, which speaks volumes of how far a state can go to promote sports as an agent of social transformation.

When the men's team won bronze in the Tokyo Olympics, ending a 41-year-old medal drought, Naveen's role was firmly in the spotlight. Now with Tirkey at the helm of Hockey India, Odisha will aim for glory in a sport that it has lately owned.

QUICK TAKE

SOCIAL MEDIA ON SEBI RADAR

SEBI plans social media surveillance using Artificial Intelligence to detect security law violations by individuals and groups. It involves scanning unstructured publicly available data on the web for patterns of stock market crimes—insider trading, circular and collusive trading, people acting in concert, IPO scams, etc. That's fine so long as it does not extend to a roving inquiry without judicial oversight, breaching privacy. Medical insurance firms check policyholders' social media profiles for evidence of health, smoking or drinking problems not mentioned in the application forms. The flip side is how easily people share personal information on social media.

We need to establish in every Indian state pride in the local language that is spoken, written, and read. We need to get closer to the local language than we are now

THE PRIMACY OF KANNADA HAS FINALLY ARRIVED

HARISH BIJOOR

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The Karnataka government has tabled the 'Kannada Language Comprehensive Development Bill' in the legislature in the week gone by. The bill seeks to establish the primacy of Kannada in Karnataka—in education, communication and its use through establishments such as the government and its many offices, banks and institutions of higher education.

The bill is comprehensive, even as segments of media pick up the more noisy issues to highlight. In many ways, the bill picks its direction from the Sarojini Mahishi Report (1984), which made as many as 58 recommendations to safeguard Kannada (and, in turn, Kannadigas) by and large. Finally, Kannada and its primacy seem to be a stated goal of the government.

Election-time conspiracy theories apart (whether true or imagined), the bill at hand looks robust. Its stated intent is solid. To an extent, it copies what other states in India already have in place—and in addition—it adds a couple of dimensions that other states just might follow in the future, as each state goes on to establish the primacy of its own language.

The beauty of the bill to me is that Kannada gets primacy in Karnataka. And rightly so. Tamil must get primacy in Tamil Nadu, just as Marathi must get primacy in Maharashtra. Indian states were really divided on a linguistic basis for a start. Today, in many ways, our 28 States and 9 Union Territories are "language homogenous structures" which have become entities that exist and govern themselves.

Federalism is the bed on which the states and the Indian Union sleep. Language, to that extent, is the one big binding force. A force that knits the state together, just as it separates one state from another. In many ways, it is not the political border of the various states that divides one from the other; it is the language that is spoken, the language that is lived, and indeed the language that is experienced by its peoples.

Every state is more homogenous than the country at large. This is seen in the food, culture, custom, dressing style and more. This homogeneity of a state is finally wrapped together by language. The language that is spoken, written, read and assimilated in all else as a culture. Language is, therefore, important. Very important.

This bill in Karnataka comes at an opportune time when there is plenty of social and political angst in the South of the country on the subject of Hindi imposition. Tamil Nadu leads vociferously in this debate, and all South Indian states follow. West Bengal and Maharashtra are not too far away in order of protest decibel levels. There is a very passionate call that asks for the primacy of the local language to be maintained at completely high levels.

I do believe the BJP Basavaraj Bommai government in Karnataka has read the pulse of the people of Karnataka right, and here comes the bill—all dressed up and ready to run.

The proposed legislation is a positive one for me if it establishes Kannada in its rightful place in Karnataka. A lot of us have forgotten to speak the language when we must. Many of us do not read enough of it, even if we know how. A lot of us pass qualitative and elitist value judgments on people who speak different languages. Many imagine the English-speaking to be at the top of the pyramid of language hierarchy, followed by the Hindi-speaking ones, and those that speak the local language occupy a different peg altogether. We need to think differently now. This is a completely politically incorrect thing to write, but write it, I must.

By default, English is considered today to be the language that gets you corporate jobs. Hindi is the language that gets you Central government jobs. And Kannada is the language that gets you local state government jobs. It's time to churn this pot up a bit now. The local language of the state should be able to get you the best corporate jobs, just as it should be able to get you the best government jobs.

We need to establish in every Indian state pride in the local language that is spoken, written, and read. We can have one tax. We can have one market. But we need to have many languages. The many languages of India. This is indeed the strength of the real India. Unity in its diversity. We need to get closer to the local language than we are now. And that makes us local. And that makes us belong.

Even as the media focuses on the proposed noisy diktat in Karnataka that no incentives will be given to firms not giving first preference to Kannadigas in jobs, I do believe this is not the way to do it. I divide sops into two. A first-mile sop and a last-mile sop. Merit must always take first place at the last mile when it comes to jobs. I am okay with the state government giving me a first-mile sop. Give me the best facilities free of cost in educational establishments of every kind and in vocational and tech training centres operated for the purpose of helping the Kannadiga with competence building. Give me incentives as a Kannadiga to run as good as the rest, if not better. This is a first-mile sop. But do not insist on reservations of jobs at the last mile. It will kill my animal instinct to perform, compete and out-beat everyone else out there. As a Kannadiga, I do believe I can. Instill in me the pride of achievement through competency building, not through a process of reservation by diktat. It will kill my animal instinct. I am big on this. I am good as anyone else is.

At the end of the day, an act is only as good as its implementation is. We just may get a great act in place after due discussion by our lawmakers, but God is in the implementation. As is the Devil. Therefore let's wait and watch, as even this bill shall pass!

WHEN DIPLOMATS IN ISRAEL GO ON STRIKE

PR KUMARASWAMY
Professor at JNU. Teaches contemporary Middle East

In late August, the Israeli media reported that Prime Minister Yair Lapid would undertake two important foreign visits as part of his strategy to counter the fructification of the ongoing nuclear negotiations between Iran and P5+1. Interestingly, the tiny new item also mentioned by the prime minister would be using the services of a private company to 'coordinate' his visits to Germany and then to the annual session of the UN General Assembly in New York. Of course, none would have bothered if his intentions were cost-cutting, except perhaps rival companies. Lapid's unusual move was a result of a standoff between the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Finance over a wage dispute. Though the issue was resolved for now, there were fears that the dispute might escalate and become a full-fledged work stoppage at the Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Yes, strike action by Israeli diplomats; Lapid was merely contemplating a pre-emptive measure while pursuing his diplomatic moves.

Strikes are not uncommon in Israel and indeed were widespread during the heydays of the Histadrut Labour Federation. Once affiliated to the Labour party, the Histadrut dominated the union activities in Israel. As the union of workers and the owner of some of the largest economic assets in the country, Histadrut literally controlled the labour market and economy. It simultaneously pursued two seemingly contradictory functions; bargaining higher wages for the workers and coordinating and facilitating government policies on inflation, reforms and budget deficits. Work stoppages over inflation-linked wages, working conditions, paid leaves, health and social security benefits, and pensions were so frequent that even in the late 1980s, Israeli dailies routinely carried front-page news items: Following government offices will be on strike or will only be working partially.

However, over time, trade unionism in Israel has weakened significantly. Economic liberalisation and Israel's integration into the global economy considerably undermined the power of Histadrut, which undermined its negotiating capacity. The dwindling fortunes of the Labour Party in the Knesset elections since the late 1990s also contributed to the weakening of the once-unbreakable Histadrut-establishment linkages. In addition, the emergence of scores of private companies, especially in high-tech areas, led to a boom of smaller firms whose workers could not organise themselves or were induced not to unionise.

At the same time, these changes did not wholly dampen the strike culture in Israel, and larger unions continued to flex their muscles for better pay and working conditions. Powerful ones like teachers' and transport workers' unions often picked strategic timings to maximise their efforts. The former typically picks late August, just days before the reopening of the school year on September 1. This year also saw a last-minute multi-year wage agreement that ensured that schools were reopened on time. Strike actions by airport workers affiliated with the Histadrut normally happen around the weeklong Jewish New Year or Rosha Shana (it falls on the 25th of this month). With over a million tourists crossing the Ben-Gurion airport in a few days, can there be a better time to exert maximum pressure on the finance ministry?

Workers' rights are steeped in Zionist ethos. Protecting workers' rights through various measures has been seen as essential to protecting individual and societal freedom. Labour Zionism—the foundation of the State of Israel—was primarily built on safeguarding workers' rights. Strikes affecting daily life are so common that Israelis have become accustomed to periodic but temporary inconveniences.

Unlike other unions, strike actions by the foreign ministry have a worldwide impact. Even if the ambassadors function 'normally', other services are disrupted

Israel is unique and different from other democracies; even government offices are not immune from strike actions. Cash-starved municipalities, especially the smaller ones, are the main theatre of labour actions; at times, bigger ones like Jerusalem, Tel Aviv and Haifa have faced strike actions, manifested in uncollected garbage, delayed services and repairs. As a sign of impending activities, municipal and government offices only answer phones in the initial days, advising the customers to look for media updates as to when their strikes would end. These days, only the mode of communication has changed; earlier, there were bills on office doors, and now the same message is communicated online.

At times, strike actions—delays or total work stoppage—severely affect foreigners in Israel whose visas are due for renewal. Strike notices are used to greet those who come to the Interior Ministry's downtown office in Jerusalem requiring emergency extensions or visas for their friends and relatives. Thus, the Ben-Gurion Airport had to manage foreigners who became 'unauthorised' or 'illegal' due to strike actions by the Interior Ministry.

Unlike other unions, strike actions by the foreign ministry have a worldwide impact. Even if the ambassadors function 'normally', other services are severely disrupted when strikes intensify. Missions must scale down their services, postpone pre scheduled meetings, limit their engagements with host countries, or defer consular services like passports and visas. Indeed, even foreign leaders could not escape the consequences of strike actions by the Israeli Foreign Ministry. For example, in January 2011, the then Russian Prime Minister Vladimir Putin was scheduled to make his first state visit to Israel since assuming office. Unfortunately, it had to be cancelled due to strike actions by the foreign ministry, and the Russian leader eventually came to Israel the following year, but this time as president. Likewise, on a few occasions, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu used the National Security Council and Mossad to manage his foreign trips, especially in handling the logistical parts like hiring hotels, cars, etc., for him and his entourage. Until this June, Lapid was the Foreign Minister under the unity government headed by Naftali Bennett; perhaps as prime minister, Lapid feared that strike action by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs might escalate, and explored alternative plans for his foreign travels.

For better or worse, strike actions by civil servants have been rare in India. However, many Indians seek to emulate the Israeli model in agriculture, science, technology, innovation and education; one honestly hopes that Indian civil servants do not mimic the Israeli examples of strike actions.

A lesson for govt

Apropos of The four silly princes and the tesu tree (Sept 26). The government has a lot of lessons to learn from the moral of this story. Essentially, one should be open to consider other perspectives. The pros and cons must be completely analysed before any step is taken. If this is done, protests and demonstrations will be avoided.

Doctors protest for pay

Apropos of Govt docs stage stir for promotions and better pay (Sept 26). The state government doctors want their pay to be on par with the Central government doctors. While the latter is not permitted to run a private practice, the former has no such rule to follow. The state government must be open with the protesting doctors and make them realise the perks they have.

Adieu to a great man

Is it only envy?

Apropos of Western Hinduphobia is an envious backlash (Sept 25). Firstly, I want to congratulate Prabhu Chawla for his excellent column. But I am a bit doubtful that the only element in Hinduphobia is envy. I feel there is inherent hatred for what Hinduism stands for! In fact, it is their inability to accept pluralism. It is argued by the so-called secularists that they do not hate Hinduism but Hindutva instead. When they kill Hindus, is it only Hindutva that they are destroying?

Hartal chaos in Kerala

Apropos of Hartal violence premeditated, says CM; Cong, BJP slam 'police failure' (Sept 25). The magnitude of violence on the hartal day is a testimony to the failure of the state government in containing the violence. Whenever minority communalism manifests in violent forms, the tendency of the leaders to join hands with majority communalism gives fodder to the perpetrators of the crime.
Dharmarajan A K, Thalassery

Modernise development

Shankkar Aiyar's column, The political economy of India's potholes (Sept 25), is a study of the subject in a different way. Perhaps the CPWD and state PWDs are following technical specifications of the colonial era for road construction and maintenance. And of course, this just provides ample space for corruption. Updating specifications is the need of the day, not without a strong political will of course.

ABE'S FUNERAL

PM Modi will hold bilateral meeting with Kishida on Japan visit

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will pay tributes to Japan's former prime minister Shinzo Abe at his state funeral in Tokyo on Tuesday. Modi will also have a personal meeting with Abe's wife, Akie Abe, to offer his condolences. Modi, during his 12-hour stay in Tokyo, will also meet Prime Minister Fumio Kishida.

"Bilateral talks will take place between PM Modi and PM Kishida on a range of issues,'' Foreign Secretary Vinay Kwatra said, adding that representatives of over 100 countries, including 20 heads of state, will attend the funeral.

Modi considered Abe a friend and a champion of India-Japan relationship. The two had also developed a personal bond through their various meetings.

"PM Modi's interactions with former PM Abe began with his visit to Japan in 2007 when he was the chief minister of Gujarat. The two leaders made enormous contributions and were singularly responsible for elevating India-Japan relations to the status of Special Strategic and Global Partnership in 2014,'' Kwatra said.

Abe was conferred the Padma Vibhushan in 2021. US Vice President Kamala Harris is also in Tokyo and has had a meeting with Kishida. However, there is no bilateral meeting lined up between Modi and Harris. Modi had earlier visited Japan for the Quad leaders' summit in May, when he also held a bilateral meet with Kishida. The Japa PM also came to India for the India-Japan Summit in March this year.

"These meetings have underscored the two leaders' continuing commitment towards further deepening India-Japan ties. This year marks the 70th anniversary of India-Japan diplomatic relationship," Kwatra added.

India and Japan are committed to strengthening partnership in key areas that include trade and investment, defence and security, climate change, health security, infrastructure, digital space, industrial development, energy, and critical and emerging technologies.

Centre's two ways on perks to its officers in NE, Valley

NE employees to lose benefits even as it's 'encouraged' in Kashmir

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

THE Centre's recent move to withdraw at least four incentives and special allowances to All India Service (AIS) officers posted in the northeastern states flies in the face of its own decision to amend deputation rules and grant special concessions for officials in Jammu and Kashmir.

In a September 23 notification to chief secretaries of all northeastern states, the Department of Personnel and Training withdrew four letters and office memoranda to effectively discontinue as many incentives and special allowances that AIS officers – from the IAS, IPS and others – enjoy during their assignments there.

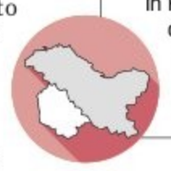
However, in a September 9 order, the DoPT "relaxed" deputation rules to "encourage IAS and other All India Service officers as well as officers of Central Services to get posted in Jammu and Kashmir". This step was taken to "address the shortage of officers in the newly created UT of Jammu and Kashmir. Besides, J&K Administrative Services officers are to be inducted in the IAS.

The Centre also took initiatives such as granting special concessions and incentives to central government employees working the Kashmir Valley.

Move irks NE officers

The Centre's decision for the northeastern states was based on a report submitted by the Vineeta Rai committee

According to officers in Nagaland, "insistence on applying All India norms and policies has not only aggravated the problems but are also grossly unfair and iniquitous to the officers"



In Kashmir valley, special concessions and incentives are also extended to Central employees

The withdrawal of a February 2, 2009, office memorandum (OM), which granted additional monetary incentives to AIS officers belonging to the northeastern cadres, will now do away with as much as 37.5 percent (25 percent extra salary and 12.5 percent special compensatory allowance) of the salary that an AIS officer gets in the northeast.

The other incentives included post retirement housing (in force since January 22, 2007), reimbursement of payable income tax for tribal AIS officers on deputation (since February 16, 2009) and inter-cadre deputation to/from the northeast cadres (effective since September 5, 2017) which ensured at least one tenure (of four years) to an officer's home or any other state.

The Centre's decision for the northeastern states was based on a report submitted by the Vineeta Rai committee which was mandated in August 2005 to "examine the issues pertaining to service conditions" of AIS officers serving in the region. AIS officers in the states had shared their submissions with the committee.

In their submission, AIS officers in Nagaland had termed the Centre's steps – incentives and allowances – not only "inadequate" but the "insistence on applying All India norms and policies has not only aggravated the problems but are also grossly unfair and iniquitous to the officers".

Pointing out that the Centre's decision has "several implications", a former Manipur DGP said that the situation in the insurgency "has become quite normal in Nagaland, Manipur and Tripura" but "not to the extent that these benefits should be withdrawn".

Besides, he said that the government's order should be applicawble to all.

BHAGWAT FOR MORE 'BHARATIYATA' FROM MUSLIMS: OWAISI

A spate of recent meetings between Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) chief Mohan Bhagwat and Muslim personalities and clerics have sparked heated debates in many quarters. Among the prominent Muslim representatives who met Bhagwat were former Delhi Lieutenant-Governor Najeeb Jung, former Chief Election Commissioner SY Quraishi, former Aligarh Muslim University Vice-Chancellor Lieutenant-General Zameer Uddin Shah (retd.), Rashtriya Lok Dal national vice-president Shahid Siddiqui and businessman Saeed Shervani.While the RSS maintains it was an outreach effort by the outfit to strengthen religious inclusivity, Asaduddin Owaisi, Chief of the All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen says the RSS chief spoke about cutting down madrasas and the need of Muslims showing more 'Bharatiyata' in the meeting.

Excerpts from an interview with Preetha Nair:

You were critical of RSS chief's meeting with Muslim intellectuals and clerics...
These intellectuals claimed that they represent the Muslim community. But they don't. They should have said that they met the RSS chief in their individual capacity.

The meeting took place in August and it came to light only last week. What stopped them from saying it in public? Also, they are not speaking the complete truth. The truth is that the RSS chief told them to reduce the number of madrasas and that Indian Muslims need to show their 'Bharatiyata'.

RSS and BJP have been propounding 'Bharatiyata' for long.
Bhagwat said Indian Muslims need to show their 'Bharatiyata'. I would like to know whether RSS abdicated the Hindutva ideology which was propounded by Savarkar? According to Savarkar, a Hindu was 'one who considers India to be his motherland and his holy land. According to him, Muslims do not accept India as a holy land.

Both the sides were concerned about communal disharmony...
If both sides are so concerned, why can't the RSS chief apprise the Prime Minister? The RSS could have suggested that it would ask PM Modi to hold a National Integration Council meeting.

Verbatim

BJP has also been making outreach efforts after the Hyderabad National Executive meeting...
Why are madrasas being demolished in Assam? Why is the madrasa survey being done in UP? By that logic, why can't a survey be done of missionary schools, private schools, government schools or RSS-run schools?

Bhagwat also met Dr Umer Ahmed Ilyasi, the chief cleric of All India Imam Organization
That cleric is a known RSS-BJP follower, and has been associated with them for a long time.

SC seeks reply in Rajiv killers' plea for early release

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday sought the responses of the Centre and the Tamil Nadu government in pleas by RP Ravichandran and Nalini, convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case, seeking premature release.

"Issue notice returnable on October 14. Liberty to serve the standing counsel for the State of Tamil Nadu and also short notice to ASG KM Nataraj since he had assisted the court in earlier similar matter," the court said in its order.

Remarking that it won't be appropriate to pass an order on bail ex parte, a bench of Justices BR Gavai and BV Nagarathna, however, refused to grant interim bail to the convicts. It posted the matter for October 14.

The court's order came in a plea filed by the convicts, who are serving life imprisonment, challenging the Madras High Court's June 17 order of dismissing their plea for premature release.

While observing that the HC does not have special powers enjoyed by the Supreme Court under Article 142 of the Constitution of India, a bench of Chief Justice Munishwar Nath Bhandari and Justice N Mala had said, "The power under Article 142 of the Constitution of India can be exercised only by the apex court and no such power exists with the high court. The aforesaid goes to the root of the case to hold that without the signature of the governor to authorise the resolution, this court cannot pass an order directing the state government to release the accused, otherwise the direction therein would not only offend Article 161 of the Constitution of India, but also Article 163 of the Constitution of India."

Citing that the convicts were out on parole due to Covid, senior advocate Sanjay Hegde, appearing for Ravichandran and S Nalini, had sought grant of interim bail.

Before the top court, the convicts while seeking premature release had cited the SC's May 18 order of invoking its jurisdiction under Article 142 of the Constitution and ordering release of AG Perarivalan, the convict in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case who had served over 30 years in jail. A bench headed by Justice LN Rao had said that the Tamil Nadu state cabinet's advice recommending premature release of all the seven convicts was binding on the governor.

Refuses to stay demolition of illegal portion of Rane's bungalow

Union Minister Narayan Rane suffered a setback as SC on Monday rejected his plea challenging Bombay HC's order of directing Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation – which rules over Mumbai – to demolish illegal portions of his residence "Aadish Bungalow" within two weeks. A bench of Justices SK Kaul and AS Oka however granted a firm owned by him three months to demolish the structures and granted liberty to the BMC to take action as per law later.

Own platform for live streaming soon, says chief justice

CJI UU Lalit on Monday said that SC will have its own platform for live streaming & the use of YouTube was temporary. Referring to the 2018 SC ruling in Swapnil Tripathi v Supreme Court wherein a bench allowed live streaming of the hearings in SC except in sensitive matters, counsel while seeking listing of the plea said, "Paragraph 154 of the judgement says that copyright of SC proceedings cannot be surrendeeed while YouTube seeks for surrendering the copyrights."

U'khand: Plea seeks ban on revenue police

In the wake of recent murder of Ankita Bhandari who was allegedly murdered by son of now expelled BJP leader, an application has been filed in SC seeking abolition of Revenue Police System prevalent in many parts of State of Uttarakhand. 'State fund needed for adoption, care of kids'

The Supreme Court on Monday issued notice in plea seeking creation of funds by centre and state for implementing schemes of adoption, foster care, kinship care, and sponsorship. Highlighting the issue pertaining to adoption of children with special needs, plea stated that the number of children getting adopted under the Juvenile Justice Act was meagre and had declined.

NMC reply sought on MBBS for disabled

SC seeks National Medical Commission's response in pleas which challenges MCI's notification which bars candidates having speech and language benchmark disability from pursuing the MBBS Course. It was argued in the petition that such persons have been arbitrarily eliminated from MBBS course which is in complete violation of Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016.

HC asked to hear Deshmukh bail application

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday directed the Bombay HC to consider and dispose of Maharashtra's former minister Anil Deshmukh's plea seeking bail in money laundering case being investigated by the ED.

Noting that Deshmukh's bail application is listed before Justice NJ Jamadar of the Bombay HC, a bench led by Justices DY Chandrachud granted him the liberty to mention his application before a single judge.

"We issue a direction and permit the petitioner to apply before the learned judge to whom the case has been assigned tomorrow. The application shall be taken for hearing during the course of this week and decided expeditiously," the Bench said.

Expressing displeasure with regards to pendency of his application since March 21, 2022, bench said, "Every person who files an application for bail has legitimate expectation that its disposed of at early date."

Court's order had come in a plea preferred by Deshmukh challenging Bombay HC's order. Court also said that it was not expressing any merits on his plea.

I&B ministry orders YouTube to remove 45 videos over disharmony

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

BASED on the inputs from intelligence agencies, the ministry of information and broadcasting has directed YouTube to block 45 videos uploaded on 10 channels on the digital platform. They were accused of spreading fake news to create animosity among religious communities.

The ministry's orders to block the content were issued on Friday under the provisions of the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules 2021.

"They were trying to divide the country, spreading scare and misleading environment. The ill-intentioned content aimed to create misunderstanding with friendly nations. The Government willcontinue to take action against such channels and websites airing malicious content," said Anurag Thakur, ministry of information and broadcasting (I&B).

According to the ministry, the blocked videos had garnered 1.30 crore views cumulatively.

"The content included fake news and morphed videos spread with the intent to spread hatred among religious communities. Examples include false claims such as the Government having taken away the religious rights of certain communities, violent threats against religious communities, declaration of civil war in India, etc. Such videos were found to have the potential to cause communal disharmony and disrupt public order in the country," said the ministry.

Some of the videos blocked by the ministry were being used to spread disinformation on issues related to Agnipath scheme, Indian Armed Forces, India's national security apparatus, and Kashmir.

intel reports prompt move

Union I&B Minister Anurag Thakur, following the inputs and recommendations from the intelligence and security agencies, blocked the errant handles and digital platforms

"Certain videos depicted the erroneous external boundary of India with parts of Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) and Ladakh outside the Indian territories. Such cartographic misrepresentation was found to be detrimental to the sovereignty and territorial integrity of India," said the ministry.

The content blocked by the ministry was found to be detrimental to sovereignty and integrity of India, security of the State, India's friendly relations with foreign States, and public order in the country, the ministry further said.

Earlier, the ministry ordered the blocking of over 100 YouTube channels and other digital platforms since December. Majority of them were being operated from Pakistan

Arunachal Pradesh village celebrates arrival of first LPG cylinders

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

COOKING gas has wended its way to the "disconnected" Vijaynagar circle of Arunachal Pradesh on the Myanmar border, 57 years after the first Indane LPG connection in India was released on October 22, 1965 in Kolkata. Two days ago, an agency, based in the Miao subdivision of Changlang district, delivered LPG cylinders to 15 families in Vijaynagar, 157 km away. Locals celebrated it.

Minister Kamlung Mossang said the service fulfilled a long-felt need of the people. "They rely entirely on firewood for cooking and they faced a lot of difficulties especially during the rainy season," he said.

Antu Ngemu, the gas agency proprietor, said the consumers were overjoyed. Nearly 500 others applied for the LPG connection but their documents are yet to reach the agency. "We haven't been able to extend the service to them due to issues like logistics and documentation. Even for one bank transaction, you have to wait for several days," Antu said.

Happy locals posing with LPG cylinders at Vijaynagar in Arunachal | EXPRESS

Usina Yobin said her father was so ecstatic that he called her up to break the news of the arrival of the red cylinders. "He received the cylinders, not the oven which will be delivered soon, but that couldn't take away his joy," Usina told this newspaper from Jairampur in the district where she was married off in 2019.

The BSNL reached Vijaynagar in 2020 but one can get through only if lucky. This reporter could not reach any of the LPG consumers despite multiple attempts. After her wedding, Usina had to walk for over 100 km and five days along with her husband until reaching a road where she hopped into a car to go to his house. "Life is very difficult in Vijaynagar. Locals walk 15-20 km to go to a forest to collect firewood," she said.

Raj minister calls Pilot a 'traitor'

Congress crisis deepens with MLAs close to CM refusing to budge & AICC threatening action

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot offers prayers at his residence in Jaipur on Monday | PTI

THE Rajasthan Congress crisis seemed to have deepened, with two central observers – Ajay Maken and Mallikarjun Kharge – leaving for Delhi amid toughening of stand by legislators close to Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Monday.

In their report submitted to Sonia Gandhi, the two observers said that the MLAs refused to meet them and opposed replacing Gehlot with Sachin Pilot as the chief minister. The high command may take strong action over the rebellion.

Upping the ante, Gehlot faction leader and urban development minister Shanti Dhariwal on Monday called Pilot a "traitor who will never be accepted as CM". Dhariwal alleged that Maken had plotted "a conspiracy to remove Gehlot as CM".

At a press conference in Jaipur, Dhariwal accused AICC general secretary in-charge of Rajasthan Ajay Maken of conspiring to remove Gehlot. "I have a complaint against the general secretary in-charge. The general secretary of the Congress organization came to make the rebel leader the CM. If he asks for proof, I will present it too," Dhariwal said.

"The way the resolution is being passed and the method is being adopted, it is clear that those who betrayed the Congress would be made to sit on the CM chair," he added.

Earlier in the day in Jaipur, the observers warned the MLAs that their "action amounted to indiscipline". Maken and Kharge, who were sent to Jaipur to call a CLP meet and decide on new CM, returned to Delhi on Monday afternoon.

"Yes, this is indiscipline, when one official meeting has been called and parallel to it another meeting is called, then it is termed as indiscipline. We will see what action will be taken against it," said Maken told mediapersons before leaving for Delhi.

Maken said the CLP meeting was called after consultations with Gehlot. "We had told the MLAs that their concerns would be addressed and placed before Sonia Gandhi before taking a final call on CM. But the MLAs did not come to the meeting and we kept waiting."

Maken said that three ministers -- Shanti Dhariwal, Mahesh Joshi and Pratap Singh Khachariyawas -- had come to us as representatives of MLAs close to Gehlot. "They put three conditions before us. The first condition was that Sachin Pilot should not be made CM, the second was that the CLP meeting should be called only after October 19 and the third was that CM should be made from the 102 MLAs who played an important role in saving the government."

"The MLAs of the Gehlot camp had demanded that their conditions be added in the proposal. It has never happened in the history of Congress," Maken said, adding, "Gehlot himself is contesting the election for the national president, so it would have been agreed later that such a proposal should be brought."

Gehlot met Kharge in the hotel on Monday afternoon. Before leaving for Delhi, Kharge said, "Everyone will have to be on the same page with the Congress President's decision. There has to be unity and discipline in the state party unit."

After meeting Sonia in Delhi in the evening, Maken said, "The Speaker has been asked to submit a written report by tonight or tomorrow evening. We have told everything to the Congress President."

BSF to deploy anti-drone system along Pak border

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FOR the first time, the Border Security Force is deploying laser-equipped anti-drone technology and anti-drone guns along the Intentional Border (IB) with Pakistan at 30 spots in Punjab.

The new system can shoot down and jam the intruding drones that are being increasingly used to drop weapons and drugs. Sources said the BSF has identified sensitive areas where such anti-drone measures are being activated. "Along the 553 km IB in Punjab, we have zeroed in on around 30 such points. Anti-drone technology and anti-drone guns are being installed at these points," said an officer.

He said in terms of operational capability, the anti-drone guns can be manually handheld or fixed on a vehicle. These are capable of neutralizing a flying object from a distance of around 2,500 metres. They can force-land the UAV (unmanned aerial vehicle) at its place of operation within 10 seconds after the detection through its radio and GPS links.

Sources said the anti-drone technology system provided for both 'soft-kill' and 'hard-kill' options. It has the capability to both detect and destroy drones in the air. The system can detect and jam drones from up to 3 km and by using a laser, it can bring down a target from up to 2 km depending on the wattage of the laser weapon.

It has a radar detection range of 4km, a jamming range of more than 2km and a kill range of more than a kilometer.

"With this technology and gadgets, our troopers will more effectively check the drone movement and neutralize it," said an officer.

The BSF has sighted 145 drones since January this year, of which 10 have been shot down compared to 67 drones spotted the previous year, sources said.

The Punjab government has banned flying of drones in border districts of the state located up to 25 km from the Pakistan frontier.

Cow politics hitting Gujarat govt hard

The grant of `500 crore assured earlier by the Gujarat CM for the strained cow shelters has led to fresh agitation among agrarian sector. Trustees of cow shelters (panjarapole) are out on the streets pressuring the government to allocate the grant with more cows landing in such facilities in the backdrop of the lumpy skin disease. At a rally in Banaskantha in March, Bhupendra Patel said, "We are all gau bhakts. For gau mata, `500 crore is allocated in the budget." Now the charitable trusts say they are not getting funds while the viral outbreak has led them to pinch their resources and finances.

Whose game is Owaisi spoiling in Gujarat?

AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi recently declared his party's candidates for three seats for the Assembly polls. Sabir Kabliwala, president of the state unit of the AIMIM, would contest from Jamalpur-Khadia in Ahmedabad. The party's Dalit face Kaushika Parmar will contest from Danilimda seat of Ahmedabad, while Wasim Qureshi will contest from Surat-East. Jamalpur-Khadia and Danilimda seats are currently held by Congress while Surat-East is with the BJP. In 2012, Kabliwala, a former Congressman, contested from Jamalpur-Khadia as an Independent after he was denied a ticket by the Congress.

Patil predicts early elections in state

BJP state president CR Patil hinted at early election in Gujarat, while a countdown has begun for an announcement of assembly polls. The Election Commission team is on a two-day tour of Gujarat regarding the elections. In the meantime, Patil on Monday said at an event in Anand, "I think the election will be completed by November-end." However, after making the statement, he perhaps realised that he is no authority over this, and said, "I do not have the authority to announce the date of the election."

Himachal: 3 IIT students among 7 tourists killed as bus falls into gorge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chandigarh

SEVEN tourists, including three Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Varanasi students, died and 10 were injured as a tempo they were travelling in fell into a gorge in Kullu district of Himachal Pradesh on Sunday evening.

Sources said 17 people were travelling in a tempo that was taking them to Banjar from Jalori Pass when the accident took place as the driver lost control of the vehicle near Ghiyagi. The tempo rolled down into a gorge. Five tourists died instantly while two others succumbed at a hospital, sources said.Reports said three students belonging to IIT Varanasi in Uttar Pradesh were among the dead.

Kullu Superintendent of Police Chand Sharma said five persons died on the spot and 10 were injured after a tourist vehicle rolled down from a cliff around 8.30 pm on Sunday in the Banjar Valley in Kullu.

The injured have been rushed to Banjar and zonal hospitals in Kullu. They are under care of doctors and paramedical staff in emergency services. Their condition is said to be stable.

Thrashed by teacher, Class X boy dies after 19 days in hosp

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A class 10th student in Auraiya district of central UP died on Monday reportedly after being thrashed by his teacher at a government school.

Reports said teacher Ashwini Singh kicked, punched and caned Nikhit Kumar belonging to Scheduled Caste over a mistake the student had made in a class test on Sept 7.

Nikhit Kumar (15) was a resident of Vaishali village and studied in Class X at Adarsh Inter College located in a town under the limits of Achhalda police station area in Auraiya.

The teacher allegedly called out Nikhit and reprimanded him for a mistake that he had made in the test. The teacher then allegedly thrashed the student until he lost consciousness.

The boy was rushed to a private hospital but developed some problem in the respiratory tract. Doctors said he had suffered internal injuries. On Monday, Nikhit was referred to the Institute of Medical Sciences, Saifai, but he died in the ambulance before reaching Saifai.

Don't ask questions on Modi-Shah's choice of candidates: Guj BJP chief

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT BJP chief CR Patil has warned the party's 'page committee' members in Anand against factionalism, saying they have "no right to question" the decision of PM Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah in the selection of party candidates. Patil addressed 'page committee' members in Anand district and inaugurated the district 'Kamalam' office on Monday.

The 'Panna Pramukh' (page in-charge) concept, a brainchild of Shah, was first used in the 2007 Gujarat assembly polls and has since been replicated in other states. A 'panna pramukh' acts as the head of one page (both front and back) of a voters list consisting of the names of nearly 30 voters.

A Panna Pramukh's responsibility is to ensure that the voters listed on the pages of electoral rolls cast their votes on the voting day. They have to also establish regular contact with voters on their page and motivate them to vote for the saffron party.

The AAP has begun announcing its candidates in the poll-bound state. The main opposition Congress is in the process to do so and the BJP is under pressure to announce its nominations.

"Don't worry about who gets the ticket... That will be decided by PM Modi and Amit Shah. I don't have the power to allot the ticket. At times, many capable ticket aspirants are disappointed. They need not," said Patil. He said the party would send the biodata of each ticket aspirant to Delhi. He said if the aspirants had complaints, they could put them before the visiting party observers.

Shah says PM Modi 'Bhagirath' of Gujarat

Home Minister Amit Shah on Monday said that PM Modi worked as Bhagirath as he brought Narmada water to Ahmedabad. He was addressing the farmer's convention at Balawa in Ahmedabad district in Gujarat Shah said, "Congress had lingered Narmada Dam Project since 1964. As soon as, Narendra Modi became CM, he worked hard to bring water from Narmada to Ahmedabad district. Narendrabhai became the Bhagirath of Gujarat."

6 arrested for beating 4 of a family on suspicion of witchcraft in J'khand

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

FOUR members of a family, including three women, were allegedly tortured on suspicion of practising witchcraft at Dumka in Jharkhand through Saturday night.

The incident came to light on Sunday when police personnel reached the spot after receiving a tip-off that the victims were beaten with hot iron rods and forced to consume human excreta. Six persons have been arrested in the case.

Rasi Murmu (55), Sonamuni Tuddu (47), Shrifal Murmu (27) and Koso Tudu, belonging to the same family, were seriously injured during the incident. Two of them were referred to Deoghar for better treatment after their condition started deteriorating.

According to the police, the four were first called witches and thrashed by some villagers, who later filled faeces in a bottle and forced them to consume it. However, the assailants were not satisfied by this, and burnt parts of their body with hot iron rods, the villagers told the police.

"We received a tip-off about the incident at Afsari village on Sunday and a police party was rushed to the spot. After reaching there, it was found that four members of the same family were thrashed brutally on charges of witchcraft. Their charges have been prima facie found to be true. They were then admitted to the community health centre at Sarayyahat," Vinay Kumar, officer incharge of Sarryahat police station, said. Doctors then referred Sonamuni and her son Shrifal to a hospital in Deoghar, he added.

The victims were also threatened by the assailants that they would have to face dire consequences if they tried to report the matter to the police. According to one of the victims, the incident took place after one Jyotin Murmu of the same village thatched a conspiracy against them. He, however, said he does not know why they were labeled as witches.

An FIR under Sections 448/ 341/ 323/ 325/ 326A/ 307/ 504/ 506/ 34 of the IPC, along with Section 3/ 4 of Witchcraft Prohibition Act has been lodged against six named accused persons and some other unknown persons at Sarryyahat Police Station. "All the six named accused have been arrested and further action is being taken against them," said Kumar.

Magsaysay award winner among 3 detained in Guj

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

RAMON Magsaysay award recipient Sandeep Pandey and three others were detained on Monday ahead of a foot-march to express their solidarity with Bilkis Bano, who was gangraped and seven of her family members were murdered during the 2002 Gujarat riots

Pandey and other activists were to participate in the foot-march, titled 'Bilkis Bano Amne Maaf Karo' (Bilkis Bano, please forgive us), which planned to be taken out from her native village Randhikpur in neighboring Dahod district on Monday under the banner of Hindu-Muslim Ekta Samiti. The march was to conclude in Ahmedabad on October 4.

The activists were detained from Godhra on Sunday. The Hindu-Muslim Ekta Samiti in a statement condemned the police action.

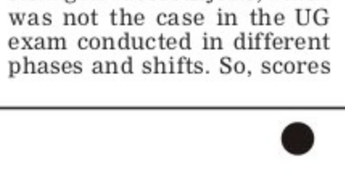
The organization said, "The march was organized to support Bilkis Bano."

Azad floats party, to offer 50% seats to youth, women

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

FORMER Congress leader and Ghulam Nabi Azad, who quit the grand old party a month ago, on Monday launched his own political outfit Democratic Azad Party (DAP). The former Jammu and Kashmir chief minister said his party will not be autocratic but democratic with independent ideology.

He sought to downplay the allegations that his party will work for the BJP, saying his outfit will follow the principles of Mahatma Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru. "Our policies will not be influenced by the politics of religion, caste or creed. We respect all religions, all regions and all parties," he said.



Azad said he had initially planned to float the party on September 23 but later decided to launch on 26th Monday, the first day of the Navratri.

Fifty per cent tickets will be given to youth and women in the next Assembly polls, he said, adding Article 370 restoration won't be an election issue.

6 score 100 percentile in CUET-PG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE National Testing Agency on Monday announced the results of the much-awaited Common University Entrance Test (CUET)-PG, for which over six lakh candidates had registered. Six students scored 100 percentile — Nakul Kumar Vaish (BEd), Akash Patel (BEd), Sumit Joshi (Social Work), Neeraj Godara (Social Work), Mayank Kumar Mishra (General, MBA etc.) and Mohit (General, MBA etc.).

However, unlike the CUET-UG exam results, officials clarified that 'no normalisation of scores" was done for the post-graduate exams. "Universities will prepare the rank lists based on 'raw marks' and not NTA scores," said University Grants Commission Chairman Prof M Jagadesh Kumar.

He noted that the PG exam was held in a single sitting for most subjects, which was not the case in the UG exam conducted in different phases and shifts. So, scores had to be normalised to provide a level-playing field for all.

When the CUET-UG results were announced on September 16, the UGC chairman had said admission to undergraduate courses in central universities would be through the 'normalised' marks and not percentile or raw marks.

However, this 'normalisation' in CUET-UG had left several aspirants disappointed as they found their marks reduced from their original scores, making it difficult for them to get admission in their dream colleges.

Party with neo-fascist roots wins Italy poll

Giorgia Meloni celebrates her party's victory at its headquarters in Rome | AFP

ROME

A party with neo-fascist roots, the Brothers of Italy, won the most votes in Italy's national elections, looking set to deliver the country's first far-right-led government since World War II and make its leader, Giorgia Meloni, Italy's first woman premier, near-final results showed on Monday.

Italy's lurch to the far right immediately shifted Europe's geopolitical reality, placing a eurosceptic party in position to lead a founding member of the European Union and its third-largest economy.

Right-wing leaders across Europe immediately hailed Meloni's victory and her party's meteoric rise as sending a historic message to Brussels.

Near-final results showed the centre-right coalition netting some 44 per cent of the parliamentary vote, with Meloni's Brothers of Italy snatching some 26 per cent.

Her coalition partners divided up the remainder, with the anti-immigrant League of Matteo Salvini winning nearly 9 per cent and the more moderate Forza Italia of ex-Premier Silvio Berlusconi taking around 8 per cent. The centre-left Democratic Party and its allies had around 26 per cent, while the 5-Star Movement which had been the biggest vote-getter in 2018 Parliamentary elections saw its share of the vote halved to some 15 per cent this time around. Turnout was a historic low 64 per cent. Pollsters suggested voters stayed home in part in protest and also because they were disenchanted by the backroom deals that had created the three governments since the previous election. AFP

15 KILLED AS MAN OPENS FIRE IN RUSSIAN SCHOOL

MOSCOW

THE death toll has risen to 15 people, including 11 children, after a man opened fire on Monday at his former school in central Russia, authorities said.

The attack was the latest in a series of school shootings that have shaken Russia in recent years and came with the country on edge over efforts to mobilise tens of thousands of men to fight in Ukraine.

Russian President Vladimir Putin denounced the "inhuman terrorist attack" in the city of Izhevsk, the Kremlin said, adding that the shooter "apparently belongs to a neo-fascist group".

According to investigators, the attacker "was wearing a black top with Nazi symbols and a balaclava" when his body was discovered. He was later identified as a local man born in 1988, who graduated from the school. Investigators have said two security guards and two teachers were among the victims, while the attacker "committed suicide".

Authorities previously announced a death toll of seven children and six adults but did not specify if that included the suspected shooter.

Investigators said they were searching his home and probing his "adherence to neo-fascist views and Nazi ideology".

The region's governor Alexander Brechalov confirmed there were "casualties and wounded among children", speaking in a video statement outside school No88 in Izhevsk. Rescue and medical workers could be seen in the background, some running inside the school with stretchers.

Brechalov declared a period of mourning in the region to last until Thursday. A city of around 6,30,000 people, Izhevsk is the regional capital of Russia's Udmurt Republic, located around 1,000 kilometres east of Moscow. The attack came just hours after a man had opened fire and severely wounded a recruitment officer at an enlistment centre in Siberia.

Russia's last major school shooting was in April, when a man opened fire in a kindergarten in the central Ulyanovsk region, leaving a teacher and two children dead.

The shooter, described as "mentally ill", was later found dead, with officials saying he had shot himself. AFP

DEFENCE TIES

India's Russia dependence due to US apathy: EAM

NEW YORK

INDIA'S dependence on Russian defence equipment and the strong defence ties with Moscow is not because New Delhi did not approach the US to get those from the United States, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said Sunday.

"One of the changes in our relationships has actually been the defence cooperation which has really come about in this current form maybe the last 15 years," Jaishankar told Indian Americans here during an interactive discussion with him organized by the US India Friendship Council and Foundation for India and Indian Diaspora Studies.

"From 1965 pretty much for the next 40 years, there was no US defence equipment to India. This was, in fact, a period when the India Soviet, India Russia relationship became very strong," he said. "This was not due to a lack of trying on India's part. I can vouch for it myself. I've had my relatives, my father, my grandfather, they worked with the defence ministry. So, I know firsthand what great efforts were made over those years to try to make the US understand that it was in American interest to have a strong, united, independent, prosperous India," Jaishankar said.

Commenting on America's relationship with Pakistan, Jaishankar said it has "not served" either of the two countries. "Very honestly, it's a relationship that has neither ended up serving Pakistan well, nor serving the American interests."

Mkt falls over 1.5%, Re hits new low

India started mirroring global mkts of late; most global indices have fallen 15-20% this year

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S equity market remained under tremendous pressure on Monday, with benchmark indices - Sensex and Nifty - tumbling between 1.5% and 2% again on Monday.

The S&P BSE Sensex fell over 1,000 points intra-day to hit a low of 57,038, while the broader Nifty50 gave up 17,000-mark intra-day to hit a low of 16,978.

However, late minute buying in IT stocks like Infosys, HCL Tech, TCS and Wipro helped the indices. By closing, Sensex was at 57,145, down 954 points, and the Nifty was at 17,016, down 311 points.

Rupee on Monday closed at a fresh record low of 81.62 against US dollar after depreciating to an all-time low of 81.6526 during the day.

In the four sessions, the bloodbath at Dalal Street has wiped out more than ₹13.3 lakh crore of investors' wealth as market capitalisation of all the BSE listed entities has come down to ₹270 lakh crore on Monday, from nearly ₹283.50 lakh crore, in past four sessions.

India has of late started mirroring global markets. So far this year, most global indices have fallen 15-20%, while Sensex and Nifty have managed to remain flat. While the US Fed's 75 bps rate hike that came last week was anticipated, the hawkish stance indicating 125 bps rate hikes in the next meets by December 2022 has spooked investors.

The rate hike by the Fed and other central banks, which is aimed towards controlling the current high rate of inflation, has raised global growth concerns. Experts believe the speed with which central banks across the globe are hiking interest rates, investors are worried that slackening growth would push key economies into recession.

Then there are related negative cues such as weakening of rupee, strengthening of US bond-yields, foreign fund outflow, upcoming RBI monetary policy committee (MPC) meeting and high valuation of Indian equity market. The escalation in the Russia-Ukraine dispute has also emerged as a key negative factor.

Siddhartha Khemka, head - retail research, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, said the overall narrative of the market remains weak, especially following the cautiousness ahead of the RBI MPC due later this week.

RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das will announce the MPC decision on September 30. There is now consensus among experts that RBI will go for a 50bps rate hike.

Jio 5G phone likely to come at ₹8-₹12K

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

RELIANCE Jio is likely to price its 5G smartphone in the range of ₹8,000 to ₹12,000, once the company achieves broad 5G coverage in a bid to attract mass market 4G smartphone users to its fifth-generation network and consolidate its leadership further, according to a report.

The Counterpoint Research report noted that this strategy is similar to what Jio had done with the Jio Phone Next 4G smartphone, co-developed with Google, by attracting hundreds of millions of 2G feature phone users to its 4G network. "The two-pronged strategy will be key to Jio's growth and extend its leadership in the 5G era as well. Further, at some point in 2024, Jio will also be compelled to launch an affordable 5G mmWave+sub-6GHz smartphone as the cost deltas between the two have narrowed."

OMCs unlikely to cut fuel prices despite fall in crude rate

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

OIL marketing companies (OMCs) are not likely to reduce the transport fuel prices in the domestic market even as crude prices fell below $85 a barrel in the international market, lowest since January 14, 2022.

An official from one of the OMCs, on condition of anonymity, said oil companies have suffered a major loss in the past few quarters, thus there is no scope to cut the fuel price.

"It is not only one company but all companies have suffered losses when crude price was high in the international market. Therefore, I don't think there is any reason to cut down the price right now," said the official.

According to the oil marketing companies, Indian Oil Corporation Ltd (IOCL), Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Ltd (HPCL) and Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd (BPCL) collectively lost ₹18,480 crore on holding petrol and diesel prices. These companies said the losses were due to erosion in the marketing margin on petrol, diesel and domestic LPG. In the April to June quarter 2022, BPCL posted a loss of ₹6,291 crore, IOCL reported a net loss of ₹1,995 crore and HPCL's loss was at ₹10,197 crore.

"Oil industry is volatile; I won't be able to comment when the oil marketing companies make up their losses. In another word, the prices are not going to change in the next few months, "said the official.

A Fitch report on BPCL credit outlook says: "We believe near-term prices will remain a function of the government's efforts to balance OMCs' financial health with inflationary and fiscal pressures. However, the marketing segment should turn profitable from FY24, as crude oil prices fall to Fitch's assumption of $80 per barrel," the report further says.

International crude oil prices have been under pressure due to fear of global recession and rising interest rates. Brent Crude Future, the benchmark for the crude price, on Monday, (6.52 pm IST) was trading at $85.65 a barrel, down from the peak of $125 in May.

However during the April to June quarter, oil companies did not revise petrol and diesel to tackle inflation in the country. Usually these companies revise oil prices on a daily basis, in line with international prices. India crude oil basket averaged $92 per barrel in September, down from $116 in June.

Hero Electric to invest ₹1,200 crore in Rajasthan

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

HERO Electric has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Rajasthan government to invest about ₹1200 crore to set up a manufacturing facility that would churn out 2 million units of electric vehicles (EVs) a year.

Located in Salarpur industrial region, the state-of-the-art manufacturing is spread over 170 acres and will commence commercial production by the end of 2023, as per the statement issued by the automaker.

Naveen Munjal, managing director, Hero Electric, said, "This mega manufacturing facility is part of our capacity enhancement to boost EV adoption across India. It will allow the state to spearhead a clean mobility solution shift and promote ecological tourism practices."

Hero Electric, which also is one of India's oldest and largest electric two-wheeler companies, has been aggressive in expanding its manufacturing capacity as demand for battery-powered two-wheelers is on the rise, with some studies estimating its penetration to reach 25-30% in the overall two-wheeler sales over the next 3-5 years.

This has prompted new-age companies like Ola Electric, Okinawa Scooters and Ather Energy, as well as legacy players such as Bajaj Auto and TVS Motor, to invest heavily in EVs. Another Hero Group company, Hero MotoCorp, which recently had a legal tussle with Hero Electric, is also gearing up to launch its first electric scooter. Hero Electric had earlier set a target to of 5 million units annual capacity by 2025.

Unacademy eyes profitability by early next year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

AT a time when profits remain elusive for edtech companies, edtech unicorn Unacademy is confident of achieving profitability by early next year.

Its rival Byju's recently reported over ₹4,500 crore loss in FY21. People familiar with the development said Unacademy is expected to break even in a few months.

In July, Unacademy founder and CEO Gaurav Munjal in an email to employees said, "Even though we have more than ₹2,800 crore in the bank, we are not efficient at all. We spend crores on travel for employees and educators. Sometimes it's needed, sometimes it's not. There are a lot of unnecessary expenses that we do."

He added, "We must cut all these expenses. We have a strong core business. We must turn profitable asap." Apart from profitability, the SoftBank-backed edtech company is also eyeing an IPO in the next two years.

In the first week of September, the learning platform launched 50 education channels which aim to increase accessibility of learners across academic and non-academic categories. Just like other edtech companies, Unacademy too started its offline centres. It launched its first two offline learning centres in Kota, Rajasthan in June. It also plans to increase the number of offline centres.

Unacademy Group comprises Unacademy, Graphy, Relevel and CodeChef.

According to Tracxn, the edtech company is valued at $3.44 billion as on March 11, 2022 and it has 22 investors including Sequoia Capital, Blume Ventures and others. Its annual revenue as on December 31, 2020 was $50.1 million.

It was founded by Gaurav Munjal, Hemesh Singh and Roman Saini in 2015. The edtech company has over 91,000 registered educators and 99 million learners.

Anil Ambani gets HC relief in black money case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

IN a relief to Reliance ADA Group chairman Anil Ambani, the Bombay High Court on Monday restrained the income tax department from taking any action till November 17 on a prosecution notice issued against Ambani in a black money case.

A show cause notice was issue to Anil Ambani under the Foreign Black Money Act for non-disclosure of assets worth ₹814 crore. The notice also accused Anil Ambani of tax evasion of ₹420 crore. The show cause notice was issued in August this year. According to the income tax department's notice, Ambani was a beneficial owner of a Bahamas-based entity Diamond Trust and a British Virgin Island-based company North Atlantic Trading Unlimited. I-T notice has alleged that Ambani failed to disclose these foreign assets in his income tax returns, hence violated the Foreign Black Money

Act. Under the Act, such non-disclosures are liable to a maximum punishment of 10-years of imprisonment.

The counsel representing Ambani argued in the court that the Foreign Black Money Act came into force in 2015, while the said transactions took place between 2006-07 and 2010-11, and questioned the applicability of the law on those transactions. The court, while noting that several petitions regarding the retrospective applicability of the law were pending before many HCs, asked the I-T department to respond to the petioner's contention on retrospective applicability of the law.

RBI may raise rates by 35-50 bps in next MPC meet, say experts

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN a bid to tame the raging inflation, the Reserve Bank of India is likely to raise interest rate by 35-50 basis points in the next monetary policy committee MPC) meeting, according to the experts.

The retail inflation in India had touched 7% in August as against 6.7% in July due to rise in food prices. Inflation has been above RBI's comfort level of 6% for 8 months in a row. However, experts are of the view that inflation will moderate, going forward, and the government's focus would change to growth and job creation.

"An inflation print of 7.0% YoY (as per our expectations but higher than that of consensus) in August was greeted with a sense of déja vu. While we do expect inflation to ease next year, assuming the exogenous shocks to inflation fade, it remains a big elephant in the room," Kunal Kundu, India Economist, Societe Generale Global Solution Centre said.

"The recent signs of an escalation in the Ukraine conflict will only serve to heighten the risks again. We expect the RBI to raise the policy rate by another 50 bps to 5.9% at its meeting on Friday, in line with its desire to front-load rate hikes. That said, the central bank may not be too far from ending its hiking cycle, with the focus then likely to shift to growth given the stubbornly high unemployment rate," Kundu further stated. Meanwhile, Saugata Bhattacharya, VP and Chief Economist at Axis Bank, said RBI is likely to raise interest rate by 35-50 bps in next MPC meet. "MPC may change its stance to neutral since policy rates will now be approaching terminal rates for this cycle. The worst of inflation is likely to get over this year and then the moderation in rate hike will happen," he said.

Pankaj Pathak, fund manager-fixed income at Quantum AMC, said the bond market is already pricing for up to 50 bps rate hike. 10-year government bond yields have already increased 20 bps in the last two weeks. Experts are expecting the RBI to announce open market operations and variable repo auctions in the upcoming meet, as liquidity in the banking system turned deficit from surplus after a gap of 40 months. On September 20, the liquidity in the banking system became deficit at ₹21,873 crore. "Liquidity in the banking system is not closely dependent upon rate hikes. It depends more upon multiple factors like RBI liquidity infusions, forex market operations, cash outgoes, credit demand etc," said Bhattacharya.

INDIA'S FTP

Government defers new foreign trade policy

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government has extended the foreign trade policy (FTP) for another six months with effect from October 1, 2022, said additional Commerce secretary Amit Yadav on Monday.

The decision was taken following the requests from Export Promotion Councils (EPCs) and exporters in view of global uncertainties and currency fluctuations, he said. In April, the Centre had given the extension to the existing policy till September 30. It was slated to announce the new FTP by the end of September. The Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) will issue a notification in this regard soon.

"There was also a view to align the rollout of the new policy with the new financial year…We will have to defer the release of the new policy. The existing policy will be continued," added Yadav.

"In recent days, exporters and industry bodies have strongly urged the government that in view of the prevailing, volatile global economic and geo-political situation, it would be advisable to extend the current policy for some time, and undertake more consultations before coming out with the new policy," commerce ministry said in a statement.

"The government has always involved all stakeholders in formulating policy. In view of this, it has been decided to extend the Foreign Trade Policy 2015-20, valid till September 30, 2022, for a further period of six months, w.e.f. October 1, 2022," it further stated.

Earlier this month, Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal had met to discuss new Foreign Trade Policy (FTP) (2022-27). The Board of Trade in the meeting suggested various measures to the government related to foreign trade policy so that trade can be given further boost.

'Salaries in India likely to rise by 10.4% in 2023'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

DESPITE recessionary headwinds and domestic inflation, salaries in India are expected to increase by 10.4% in 2023, compared to an actual increase of 10.6% in 2022, which is slightly higher than the 9.9% increase projected in February, according to a survey.

E-commerce sector leads with the highest projected increase in salary at 12.8% in 2023, followed by start-ups at 12.7%, says Professional services firm Aon India's 28th Annual Salary Increase Survey 2022-23, released on Monday.

Apart from these sectors, hi-tech, information technology and IT-enabled services are expected to increase salary by 11.3% and financial institutions by 10.7%.

The survey suggests increase in salary across sectors, even as the attrition rate for the first half of 2022 continues to be high at 20.3%, only marginally lower than 21% recorded in 2021, thus retaining the pressure on salaries. The study, which analysed data across 1,300 companies from more than 40 industries, says this trend is expected to continue for the next few months.

Roopank Chaudhary, partner, Human Capital Solutions at Aon in India, said, "Salary increases that are projected in India for 2023 are in the double digits. This increase is a reflection of the confidence that corporate India has on its strong business performance."

Business leaders, however, must make decisions that ensure their workforce remains resilient today as well as into the future. They need to review their total rewards strategies and balance the impact of rising costs and salary pressures with a relatively high rate of attrition and the ongoing demand for critical talent, he added.

FMCG/FMCD (Fast moving consumer durables) leads in the bottom five sectors, followed by transportation services or logistics with projected salary increases of 9.9% and 10%, respectively.

The survey also found that four out of the five sectors that are expected to have the highest projected salary increase are technology related and experience the highest volatility and impact of current global economic uncertainty.

E-comm sector likely to raise salary by 12.8%

E-commerce sector leads with the highest projected increase in salary at 12.8% in 2023, followed by start-ups at 12.7%, as per a survey, released on Monday. Apart from these sectors, hi-tech, IT and IT-enabled services are likely to hike salary by 11.3% and financial institutions by 10.7%

Apple begins making iPhone 14 in India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

WEEKS after launching its new iPhone 14 series in the market, US tech-giant Apple has begun manufacturing its latest smartphone in India.

The company, in a statement, said these phones will be shipped from Foxconn's Chennai facility.

As per the report, Apple will sell India-produced phones locally, as well as export them to other markets globally. Its focus on manufacturing in India highlights the tech giant's desire to diversify production away from China and boost customer base in India. According to JPMorgan analysts, Apple will move 5% of its global production for the iPhone 14 to India by late 2022. Apple could also make 25% of all iPhones by 2025 in India, JP-Morgan said.

Apple CEO Tim Cook said, during an earnings call in July, while the June quarter saw record growth in Americas, Europe and rest of Asia Pacific, it also saw near doubling of revenue in India and logged strong growth in markets like Brazil, Indonesia and Vietnam. The firm works with 3 partners to assemble iPhone models in the country Wistron, Foxconn, and Pegatron.

The government had earlier announced production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme to attract manufactures to produce goods in India. Apple started making iPhones in India in 2017 with iPhone SE, and now it manufactures some of its most advanced iPhones in the country including iPhone SE, iPhone 12, iPhone 13.

Murray backs Federer as future Laver Cup captain

Andy Murray has backed Roger Federer as a future Laver Cup captain after Bjorn Borg indicated the sixth edition in Vancouver next year could be his last. "I'm sure Roger is going to stay involved in the event in some capacity and maybe one day captain the team," Murray said. "Look, he's great on the side (coaching)."

Batters sorted, time for bowlers is now

With less than a month to go for the WC, the onus is on the pacers to pick themselves up after a few dodgy shows

Indian pacers had failed to cope up with demands of death-over bowling in the absence of Japrit Bumrah's (R) until recently | AP

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

ONE-BY-ONE, everyone is turning up to India's T20 World Cup party. The mood is gradually beginning to change. Six months ago, they provided excitement with their new-found batting approach, before it turned sombre a month back. And as the big show nears, the mood is beginning to change again as was evident in Hyderabad in the third T20I against Australia. In fact, it could well be their first choice XI at the T20 World Cup.

Even though there are three T20Is coming up against South Africa, starting Wednesday, India will not have the services of Hardik Pandya and Bhuvneshwar Kumar, who will be reporting at the National Cricket Academy in Bengaluru for conditioning.

Although they have come out of Australia series with some much-needed confidence, there are still a few areas that need immediate attention. And more importantly their captain Rohit Sharma wants their "death bowling come to come to the party." And without that, the gloss is missing and it is there for everyone to see.

While the batting unit and its approach has been the cynosure of all eyes, it is beginning to show definite signs of ascendance. The confidence, which is growing with each outing, is there to see. And while their batting migraine has reduced only to a mild head-ache in KL Rahul, the same can't be said about the bowling, especially at the end overs. Since the Super 4 stages of the Asia Cup to now (excluding the match against Afghanistan) India have conceded 43 (vs Pak), 42 (vs SL), 57 (Aus), 52 (Aus) in the last four overs.

Of course, conditions haven't been kind, but their execution of deliveries and predictability have played a role. Bhuvneshwar has failed to make any sort of impact in the one over he bowls in the end. It has spiralled the problem manyfold.

"I don't think he's short in confidence, whenever I speak to him the confidence is there, you can have bad games but it's important to come back from that, and we want him to come back as quickly as possible, because he's bowled those difficult overs for us in the past," skipper Rohit said of him. "We've been working on some execution plans and hopefully we can give him more options to bowl in the death and then he'll be as good as he was before."

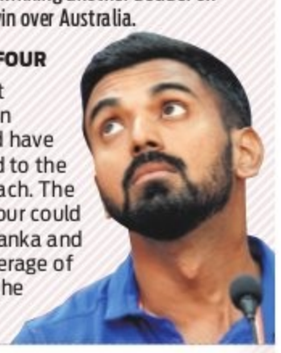
Harshal Patel, who returned to the team for the Australia series after an injury, was the other option India had for the end overs. A deceptive slower one with multiple variations and releases, had made him one of the hardest to pick in the IPL. But Harshal hasn't been able to replicate those in the international arena, where his economy rate (9.05) is higher than his T20s (8.05).

"He missed cricket for close to two months. Whenever bowlers go through an injury phase and come back, it's never easy, so we've not really judged him on how he has performed in these three games because we know his quality. We believe in his quality, whatever he has as a bowler. You want players to go out and keep improving. We talk about it all the time; we can see that happening. So, I'm pretty sure he's not far from his best," Rohit said.

Apart from being able options at the end overs, the two also give India much-needed depth in the batting front. With Arshdeep Singh around, India have another option to fall back on at the end overs, but that would mean India would have three No. 11s as their tail, which they want to avoid, unless they bench Yuzvendra Chahal and play R Ashwin instead.

POINTS TO PONDER

India kept up their impressive bilateral record, winning another decider on Sunday. A look at the takeaways from the 2-1 win over Australia.



RAHUL MOST VULNERABLE IN THE TOP FOUR

If you had told any Indian fan that Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli would be locks in team's first-choice top-three, you would have been scoffed at. Yet, they have adjusted to the side's new high-risk, high-reward approach. The one most in danger of falling out of favour could yet be KL Rahul. Against Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Australia, he has striked at 136 at an average of 16.66. Rishabh Pant could get a call at the top for the South Africa series.

KARTHIK OVER PANT, AT LEAST IN AUSTRALIA

Dinesh Karthik didn't play a lot of balls in the series against Australia but he still makes for a compelling choice as the finisher. He has a set entry point and what he does, he does with minimal fuss. Pant will of course be the long-term man of choice with the gloves but at least in the group games in Australia, Karthik could well be the man charged with this highly specific role.

WHO WILL BE THE OTHER SEAMERS?

Jasprit Bumrah will bowl four overs, likely one at the top and the other three depending on the situation. Among Harshal, Arshdeep, Bhuvneshwar Kumar, who will share the new ball and who will be Bumrah's partner at the death? The options in front have done a lot, both for and against, in recent times. Statistics suggest Arshdeep could get the nod but there are other contenders too.

AXAR A LOCK

Ravindra Jadeja's injury has paved the way for the southpaw and he has seemingly grabbed it with both hands. He has also shown that he can bowl in the powerplay, with his stump-to-stump line picking up important wickets. Considering he also adds an important lower middle-order variation — a left-hander who can hit pace — you can expect him to feature prominently in the XI.

Unadkat deploying accuracy & angles to torment batters

GOMESH S @Chennai

WHEN Jaydev Unadkat landed in Chennai for the Duleep Trophy, he knew what was at stake. It was a level above the Ranji Trophy and performing well here was key for him to move one step closer towards an India or at least an India A call-up. But he wasn't thinking about a comeback or selection. For him, it was an opportunity to show his red-ball form — something that has been prolific for over five years — and prepare for the long domestic season ahead. He said as much before the match against North East Zone.

Over the next 20 days, he went on to do everything he wanted, finishing Duleep Trophy as the player of the tournament with 13 wickets and 50 runs in three matches. If all the wickets were not enough, his unbeaten 47 in the first innings of the final was crucial in helping West Zone recover from 167/8 to 270. In hindsight, that innings ensured his team remained in the game and he had some total to bowl to.

As far as the bowling itself, very little has changed. He did what he does best. With the new ball, he tried to swing the ball in and away from the right-hander. As it got a little old, he came around the wicket to angle it in and take it away. He challenged every South Zone batter, often beating them with the movement and bounce he was able to generate. "Just to create that doubt I do try to bowl that inswingers from around the wicket time and again. Today (Saturday) because it was keeping that low, I wanted to hit the wickets as much as I could. That was the plan," he had said after Day four.

There were other factors, too. Unlike the pitch in Salem, the one in Coimbatore wasn't offering a lot of support for the spinners in the first three days. And, the tournament was played with the Kookaburra meant there was not much reverse swing either. Unadkat had to rely on creating angles, sometimes bringing the ball into a right-hander from around the wicket or hitting the hard lengths into the body of the left-handers with the same angle. "Once it (the ball) becomes old, it is about how much effort you can put in. Shorter spells, but intensity has to be right up there. Lengths have to be accurate as well, you can't bowl short and can't really plan bouncers and stuff like that in this ball," he said.

With four wickets in the first innings and two in the second — Mayank Agarwal and Manish Pandey — Unadkat led the bowling attack remarkably well, with the help of captain Ajinkya Rahane. His consistency through the tournament was crucial in West Zone winning their first Duleep Trophy title since 2009.

For Unadkat, the next stop will be the Irani Trophy. Which will be even more special as it is happening in Rajkot. The last time he played a red-ball game there, Unadkat led Saurashtra to their first-ever Ranji title in 2019. Having proven his consistency in the Duleep Trophy, the 30-year-old is keen on continuing the same in his home ground as well. After all, as he said when he landed in Chennai, it is just the start of a long season and flatter pitches only motivate him to do well.

Vani signs off Tied 29, Spilkova gets top prize

AGENCIES @ Dromoland

VANI Kapoor came up with a steady two-under 70 for the third straight day to finish Tied 29th while fellow Indian Tvesa Malik signed off tied 49th at the KPMG Women's Irish Open on the Ladies European Tour. Vani, who shot 72 on the first day, recorded 70 on each of the next three days to finish with a total of six-under 282.

Tvesa, on the other hand, shot 72 in the final round to finish with a total of one-under 287. Diksha Dagar and Amandeep Drall missed the cut after the second round. Czech golfer Klara Spilkova secured her second victory on the Ladies European Tour (LET) with a playoff win. She fired a final round of 67 (-5) to end the tournament on 14-under-par alongside Finland's Ursula Wikstrom and Denmark's Nicole Broch Estrup.

The trio headed back down to 18 and it was Spilkova who rolled in her birdie putt to emerge as the champion at Dromoland Castle. Vani, who returns to her home course, the DLF Golf and Country Club for the Hero Women's Indian Open next month, bogeyed second and fourth but picked up shots on fifth and seventh to turn in even par. On the back nine, she picked three birdies on 11th, 15th and 18th but dropped a shot on 14th for a round of 70. Tvesa had a rough start with a bogey and a double bogey early in the round.

A birdie on fifth was followed by a bogey on ninth as she turned in 3-over 38. Three birdies and no bogeys on the back nine salvaged the final day with a 72 and a total of 1-under. Spilkova, 27, came into the day having recorded rounds of 66 (-6), 68 (-4) and 73 (+1) on her opening three days. Spilkova had a tough start with two bogeys in her first five holes, but she also made three birdies to make the turn in 34 (-1). Back-to-back birdies on 10 and 11 saw the Czech player put herself right in the mix before another birdie on 16.

A miraculous par-save from the edge of the water at 17 gave Spilkova the momentum and she finished her day with a birdie on 18 which at the time put her in the lead in the clubhouse.

JAPAN: Marc Marquez is satisfied after a positive weekend. After starting from pole, the Repsol Honda team rider finished fourth in just his second MotoGP race race back from injury. Pol Espargaro earned 12th with a defensive ride in Japan. "I'm very happy with how the whole weekend has gone and we were able to put together an exciting race in the end," Marquez said.

India face Vietnam test in football tourney

HO CHI MINH CITY: The Indian men's football team will have its task cut out when it takes on Vietnam in the Hung Thinh Friendly Football Tournament here on Tuesday. On Saturday, India were held to a 1-1 draw by lower-ranked Singapore. Up against a confident Vietnan, who blanked Singapore 4-0 in their first match, the Blue Tigers will have to be extremely focussed.

Tasnim turns focus on Nat'l Games

AGENCIES @ Gandhinagar

IT'S been a happy week or so for shuttler Tasnim Mir. Having won the Chattisgarh International Challenge in Raipur on Sunday, she's clearly high on confidence. And this boost has come just ahead of the 36th National Games. The former junior World No 1 from Gujarat is now intent on carrying forward that momentum and delight the home crowd.

"I have not yet competed in a major national-level tournament in my home state," the World No 113 said. "Surely, it will always be a big motivation when you play in front of a home crowd. The National Games will be a great platform for me to experience that."

Tasnim Mir won the Chattisgarh International Challenge in Raipur

She is just 17 but has caught the attention of many with her returns on the court. Climbing to pinnacle of BWF junior rankings, a feat that eluded the likes of Saina Nehwal and PV Sindhu, is one noteworthy feat of hers so far. The teenager, however, knows she has a long road ahead and said that she draws inspiration from the Olympic medallists.

"I idolise them. They are role models for all young players," Tasnim said of Saina and Sindhu. "They are incredible performers on the global stage and have given Indian women's badminton a huge boost. All of us dream of emulating them."

Tasnim revealed her acute awareness that doing well in the senior ranks will present different challenges. "It was a very good feeling when I became No 1 in the World U-19 rankings. It was a big achievement. Repeating that in the senior ranks will be a different ball game. I have to improve."

World C'ship: Trap shooters face uphill task on Day 2

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AFTER Day 1 of the ISSF World Championship in Osijek, Croatia, India's trap shooters have plenty of catching up to do.

In the men's event, Bhowneesh Mendiratta made an ideal start, hitting 25 out of 25 in the first round. However, two misses in the second round pushed him down the order. He's placed 27th. Prithviraj Tondaiman was the next best Indian at 48th with rounds of 24 and 23. Vivaan Kapoor had a day to forget, hitting 22 and 19 to be placed 130 out of 154 shooters. Five shooters shared the top spot with flawless shooting (50 out of 50 in 2 rounds).

Neeru was the best Indian at 32nd spot in the women's section with a total of 44 (20 and 24) in the first two rounds. Shreyasi Singh was lying in 41st after rounds of 19 and 24. Manisha Keer, the third Indian in contention, was placed 47th with three more rounds to play.

Kathrin Murche of Germany was occupying the top spot with rounds of 24 and 25 (total 49). For Indians, this is a significant event as there are Olympic quota places on offer.

Nations League: World champions France face reverse against Denmark

AFP @ London

CROATIA and the Netherlands booked their places in the last four of the Nations League as champions France needed a favour to avoid relegation from the top tier on Sunday. Les Bleus were beaten 2-0 in Denmark to finish with just one win from their six group games, but Croatia's 3-1 win at Austria saved the world champions from the drop. Didier Deschamps will be hoping to have a number of key men back from injury by the time France's defence of the World Cup begins against Australia on November 22. They will also come up against the Danes in the group stage in Qatar and the Euro 2020 semi-finalists showed they are more than capable of causing France more trouble in two months' time.

Both goals came before half-time as Kasper Dolberg stretched to turn home Mikkel Damsgaard's cross before Andreas Skov Olsen volleyed in from the edge of the area. France were without Hugo Lloris, Jules Kounde, N'Golo Kante, Paul Pogba and Karim Benzema through injury. But the star trio of Antoine Griezmann, Olivier Giroud and Kylian Mbappe failed to find a way back into the game.

Coach Didier Deschamps will be hoping to have a number of key men back from injury by the time France's defence of the World Cup begins against Australia on November 22.

"It was a young French team, which for the most part does not yet have experience of the highest level," said Deschamps. "Tonight is a dose of reality and what will be waiting for us in two months."

Denmark's win meant Croatia needed to get all three points in Austria to top the group. Luka Modric got the 2018 World Cup finalists off to a flying start, but they were quickly pegged back by Christoph Baumgartner's header. Two goals in three second half minutes proved decisive as Marko Livaja and Dejan Lovren headed in at the far post.

Denmark's Kasper Dolberg (2nd L) celebrates after scoring the opening goal against France during the UEFA Nations League in Copenhagen on Sunday | AFP

Defeat relegated Austria to League B. The Netherlands made sure of top spot in Group A4 with a 1-0 win over Belgium thanks to Virgil van Dijk's header 17 minutes from time.

The Dutch just needed to avoid defeat by a three-goal margin after winning 4-1 in Brussels earlier in the group.

A Belgian revival never looked likely and Van Dijk settled the game when he was left completely unmarked to head in a corner inside the six-yard box. In the same group, Wales were relegated after losing 1-0 at home to Poland.

Karol Swiderski scored the only goal in Cardiff from Robert Lewandowski's cushioned through ball.

A1: Denmark 2-0 France, Austria 1-3 Croatia.
A4: Wales 0-1, Netherlands 1-0 Belgium.
C1: Faroe Islands 2-1 Turkey, Luxembourg 1-0 Lithuania.
C3: Azerbaijan 3-0 Kazakhstan, Slovakia 1-1 Belarus.
D1: Moldova 2-0 Liechenstein, Andorra 1-1 Latvia.

DAY'S DIARY

The moon wonders

The total lunar eclipse on this day in 2015 wowed sky-gazers around the world as the full moon took on a blood-red hue

THE PHENOMENON

The eclipse was visible in North America, South America, West Africa and Western Europe. This rare astronomical phenomenon was known as a super blood moon

CELEBRATING THE EVENT

In Los Angeles, a large crowd filled the lawn of Griffith Observatory to watch the celestial show while listening to Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata

A RARE OCCURRENCE

The proverbial stars only align for this event once every few decades, making this phenomenon much rarer than a supermoon or a lunar eclipse

Bengaluru-based wealth manager and former tennis player Deeraj Shetty, who went to the United Kingdom just to watch Roger Federer play live for the last time at the Laver Cup this year, shares his experience with CE

TUNIR BISWAS

A page in the big book of tennis history has been turned with the retirement of Serena Williams and Roger Federer. The 41-year-old Swiss player said goodbye to the sport that gave him most of the good things in his life on September 24 after he played his final match, a doubles match with his longtime rival and friend, Rafael Nadal. The match was held as part of the Laver Cup in the 02 Arena, London. Of his millions of fans, only a few managed to witness Federer lace up his boots and swing his racket on a professional tennis court for the last time. City-based wealth manager and former tennis player Deeraj Shetty was one of those few.

"Watching Federer for the last time was probably the best memory of my life. Something I'm going to cherish for the rest of my days. Watching him in action was nothing short of incredible. The environment in the 02 Arena was electrifying. There was not a single seat in the entire arena available, and everybody had RF hats on," says Shetty, who adds that there were more than 2.5 lakh RF hats (Roger Federer) sold over three days at the 02 Arena itself.

Shetty, who had moved to the US to pursue tennis, quit the sport in 2002 due to a knee injury, a year before Federer won his maiden slam. He feels watching Federer play as a fan, and as a former player has been somewhat of a bittersweet experience. "As a former tennis player, watching him makes you a little upset because you realise that that amount of talent in one person is a very rare occurrence. Obviously, with that talent also came a lot of dedication and discipline. But watching him as a fan has been incredible because he has everything you would want out of an athlete," says Shetty.

The Fedal Relationship

The Nadal-Federer rivalry has become somewhat of a love story to tennis fans. Nadal came into the limelight in 2005 after he won the Roland Garros as an 18-year-old. At the time, Federer was already the world no 1 and Nadal became the only player who was able to beat him consecutively, an unforeseen feat back then. Their contrasting styles, also dubbed 'fire and ice' by some, gave spectators a lot of joy to watch. Over many years, the intense rivalry turned into a friendship.

"The Nadal and Federer relationship, we all know, is one of respect. We all know that there exists a lot of camaraderie between the two. But watching them and their entire families together that day and watching those two hold hands, would give you an idea of what Federer means to Nadal's family and what he means to Nadal's tennis," says Shetty, who also believes it is ironic how Federer was Nadal's closest friend on tour and also his greatest rival.

Shetty has a lot of memories of watching Federer play. "From watching him play Tommy Haas in 1999 at the IMG Academy (Nick Bollettieri tennis academy) to watching him play the US open three separate times. The last great moment for me was when he beat Nadal in the 2017 Australian Open final," shares Shetty.

Shetty believes that Federer's leaving has dug a deep hole in the tennis world, which will take a while to fill up. While there are a lot of talented young players on tour, there is currently nobody among the new generation of tennis players to take charge as Federer did.

"I know many who will stop watching tennis now that Federer's gone. Tennis is going to have to work very hard to come out of the Federer shadow," concludes Shetty.

Health consultant to the royal family for 15 years, city-based Dr Issac Mathai was in the UK for the last rites of Queen Elizabeth II

Paying tribute

VIDYA IYENGAR

Bengaluru has been the favourite spot for the royals who have frequented the city for medical treatment. No surprise then that Dr Issac Mathai, the holistic physician who has been a health consultant for the British royal family for more than 15 years, was one of the few to be invited to the United Kingdom for the last rites of Queen Elizabeth II, who passed away recently. "As I was staying very close to Buckingham Palace, the street was packed with people coming to pay their last respects to the Queen. Huge crowds thronged Green Park to pay their tributes with candles and flowers. The entire city was filled with people from all over the UK and abroad. The huge security arrangements and the crowd management was highly commendable. People maintained a very sombre atmosphere as a mark of respect," says Dr Mathai, adding, "When I visited the St. James's Palace to meet with His Majesty and Her Majesty for a consultation and to convey my condolences, the entire area was completely cordoned off by security with a huge police presence. As my name was on the list, it was very easy to get in."

Dr Mathai's relationship with the royal family goes back to the '80s when he was based in London and organised the First International Health Conference in collaboration with the British Holistic Medical Association where King Charles III was a patron. Later in 2018, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and HM King Charles III jointly inaugurated the AYUSH Centre for Saint Charles Hospital, London. Dr Mathai was instrumental in the opening of this centre, for which he is the advisor now.

"During their visit here, King Charles III and Camilla, Queen Consort enjoyed the organic farm with 4,000 trees, several vegetables and fruits and the garden growing thousands of medicinal plants in a sustainable way. They visited the medicinal garden and were fascinated by how each Ayurvedic medicine takes several weeks to prepare and thousands of herbs go into each preparation," he says, adding, "They experienced different Ayurvedic and Naturopathic rejuvenation treatments and yoga. Homeopathy has been the first choice of medicine for the British royal family for more than 100 years," he says.

Eminent personalities like Nobel laureate Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Oscar-winning Hollywood actor Emma Thompson, royal families from the Middle-East and Europe have stayed in Soukya.

FASHION FOOT FORWARD

Sonu Sood

RACHEL DAMMALA

STYLIST Priyanka Mishra a.k.a Pyu Mishra's earliest memories are visiting her dad's office who was into handloom, handicrafts and other textiles. "Thanks to him, I had first-hand exposure with karigars working with beautiful zaris, zardosi, pearl and handmade fabric, pillow covers, brass sculptures and real gold thread embroidered curtains, and bedsheets, and some beautiful things come to life with chanderi, Maheshwari, and other silks. I also would visit other countries and exhibits with my father, so I'd say the profession chose me rather than the other way round," she says.

With not having to look out of her home or even her state (Gujarat), she was unconsciously training to do what she is today. "I remember when my relatives would ask me what I wanted to be, I'd say 'a tailor' because I didn't know there was something called a designer back then. I told people I want to dress up those I saw on TV and here I am today, living the dream," says Pyu.

Some of her clients to include Aamir Khan, Sushmita Sen, Kartik Aryan, Ayushmann Khurrana, and Vicky Kaushal, among others. Asked to name her favourite, she explains why it's tough to do so: "I consider myself extremely blessed to have had the opportunity to work with beautiful people, inside out. Aamir has a humble persona who takes time to sit with us for costume meetings and will brainstorm styles for the film and the events. Sushmita too is amazing to work with who always carries a positive aura, and Kartik makes work not feel like work." "I love the styles of Johnny Depp, Austin Butler, Zendaya, Gigi Hadid, Meghan Markle, Padmanabh Singh – The Maharajah of Jaipur and Ranveer Singh, to name a few," she says.

Pyu is working on some vibrant projects and has one lined up with Sonu Sood. "The ultimate dream would be to start a label of my own and maybe even a restaurant, because I love to entertain guests with food. I hope to do something in the music industry too, given my vocal training and global domination when it comes to fashion," she signs off.

FIT BIT

UTTANASANA VARIATION KNEES BENT

(Standing forward fold pose variation knees bent)

This asana encourages a natural Uddhiyana Bandha, which can be challenging for beginners. This pose also puts more pressure on the muscles of the legs and shoulders, with the action of the head towards the knees. Holding this posture with the head to the knees can be challenging, impacting both the breath and the balance.

STEPS

- Start in Tadasana, chest slightly forward, spine stretched up and neck straight.
- Inhale, raise your arms and lengthen your spine up from your tailbone, creating space in the vertebras.
- Make sure your arms are stretched upwards with elbows straight. Exhale and bend forward from your hip joints.
- Bend your knees until your palms reach the floor, chest physically touching your thighs, and fingertips are in line with your toes.
- Look towards your knees and continue to inhale and exhale for at least 10 seconds or more. Keep your upper body relaxed.
- To come out of the posture, separate your feet slightly, and keep your knees bent, allow your arms to dangle.
- Inhale and then slowly get your spine straightened in a controlled manner.
- Now, keep palms on back with fingers turned in towards the spine and thumbs placed out on the lower back. Drop the head back and down. Inhale, slowly arch the back and push the hips forward.
- Hold the pose for 5 to 10 counts and then slowly, on exhalation, get the spine in a straight upright position.

LIMITATIONS

People with recent/chronic disc injury, high blood pressure, sciatica and glaucoma, avoid this.

Senior citizens advised not to try and push their spine into hyperflexion.

BENEFITS

- Stretches and strengthens the posterior chain of the body.
- Ensures a strong core and abdomen.
- Promotes better circulation, sending the right messages to the brain through the spinal cord.
- Calms the nervous system and releases unwanted prana (energy).
- Reduces fat accumulation in the waist and abdomen.
- Encourages outward flow of energy.
- Increases oxygenated blood flow and improves digestion.

NAMMA B'LURU AND ITS CAR-DENTING FEST

OPEN SPACE
Nirad Mudur
Deputy Resident Editor
niradmadur@newindianexpress.com

TRY spotting a single vehicle in Bengaluru that is at least a few months old and which doesn't have scratches or dents on its body. Take it as a challenge.

Some among the superstitious intentionally dent their vehicles on buying a brand new one. They make it really small — something like a teeka on a baby's face — in the hope of inviting divine protection. And that is much needed in Bengaluru while on the roads, right?

However, in Bengaluru, you can be relieved from taking the pains of denting your own vehicle while seeking that divine protection. Others do it for you. But be prepared for the dents to be of any size, depending on the process by which it happens — bumper-to-bumper (while the one in front brakes suddenly, or the one behind forgets that vehicles do come with brakes), side-to-side (one trying to overtake the other, assuming to be a Formula One driver), side-on ("I won't let you cross my path before I do yours!"), or the head-on one ("My car strongest! Bring it on!!").

In Namma Bengaluru, it happens by itself. The moment you take your vehicle out on the roads, rest assured of a thousand others who are crossing your paths, going alongside you, or coming at you, ready to do that to your vehicle using their own. Lucky are those who live to see the dents on their vehicles.

Bangalore never knew Bengaluru would offer its motoring citizens the privilege to have their vehicles dented (any size will do), disfigured (beauty lies in the eyes of the steering-wheel-holder!), or right royally crumpled.

See? Bengaluru motorists offer a wide variety in the denting process. Today, we are neurologically and psychologically engineered to disfigure others' vehicles, just as much as expecting that to happen to our own on our city's roads.

In some way, there is conviction in assuming that Bengaluru's motorists have fallen in line with the Pauschian observations. Late Randy Pausch, who was the professor of Computer Science at Carnegie Mellon, in his book The Last Lecture makes an observation after his wife, Jai, crashes her vehicle into his parked convertible while trying to park her car in front of their residence. She badly dents it, and feels guilty. Pausch is not at home. Wondering how to break the news to him, she prepares his favourite meal (in the hope of cushioning whatever reactions she expected) before breaking the news to him.

When she does, and promises to get the vehicle repaired the next day, Pausch tells her it is not necessary if it is still in a good running condition, which it was.

He reasons that automobiles are there to get people from point A to point B. "They are utilitarian devices, not expressions of social status (that the dents and gashes on a vehicle could damage)....we'd just live with the dents and gashes," he narrates in his book.

It's not difficult to conclude that Bengalureans appear to be in complete agreement with Pausch in practice. They are "living with the dents and gashes" on their vehicles, which explains the challenge of finding at least one fairly used vehicle in the city without dents or gashes.

They agree on one more point. For Pausch and Jai, the perception about dented cars became a statement in their marriage: "Not everything needs to be fixed". For Bengaluru motorists, too, not everything needs to be fixed – the only difference is that they don't want to fix their skewed perception that vehicles and the way they use them are there to express their social status and their aggression. That is the root of the ongoing car-denting process. Welcome to the car-denting fest in Namma Bengaluru!

Do you consider yourself a family?

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

WHETHER you are a single person, a couple, a few adults living together in a myriad set of biological or other relationships with each other, bringing up one or more children, or pets, or any other combination of circumstances, what does it take to make a family? In the traditionally held sense, family was a term held for a certain set of people in a very particular arrangement alone. One was single, then coupled, then a family when children were involved, and then became an extended family, and then an empty nest. Family did not mean much else both under law and in general society.

However, if we ask people, in whatever form of domesticity they lived, what constituted a family, one would bet that the answer was a much simpler one. Love, they would say. Love made it a family whoever was living in that unit, and the only thing that broke a family was the love that held it together breaking – not the end of a relationship, or a legal marriage. Only the end of love breaks a family.

Families merge to make bigger families, and move apart to form smaller ones, but they are each a family as long as there is love for oneself and for the ones we choose to have.

Considering the question we started with today: Are you a family by yourself? If we say love is what makes a family, then if you are living by yourself, loving yourself and your life, you are a family by this definition, isn't it?

When we discount certain forms of love and hold others up loftily declaring such and such forms of love only are family, and get the benefits and rights associated with being a family, we are not really being "family friendly," but maybe we are a bit biased, even prejudiced, about what makes a family. We often hear people bringing around someone saying, "They are like family to me." We might just think of it as them being really close that they are as close to each other as members in a family, but really, what if we drop the 'like' there and accept that we all make families all the time?

Every family we make may not last forever. Maybe this person who is "like family" will be family for a few years or maybe just weeks, but that doesn't make them lesser, does it? After all, even biological families don't necessarily mean they are closely bonded forever. Every other soap opera on TV is about feuding relations across families. So, why do we discount families we make, and honour only families we are born into or marry into where it is legally possible to do so?

We are family is not just a popular Sister Sledge club anthem, it is a reality. To state for the record, if we give love like a family does, or should, we are family. Love makes it family – not genetics alone.

Artificial limbs distributed for free

For the 15th year, Karnataka Marwari Samaj in association with Bhagwan Mahaveer Vikalang Sahayata Samiti organised a 'Free Mega Distribution Artificial Limb Donation Camp 2022' at Maharaja Agrasen Bhavan in the presence of Jogendra Singh Sengar. More than 325 patients were provided with artificial limbs, callipers, and crutches. Bimal Kumar Saraogi said, "All of us are affected by this pandemic and we should contribute as per our capacity to help others. It is a social vision and commitment to help the disabled regain mobility and dignity by fitting high-quality artificial limbs."

The Protestor's Playlist Pick

WE'VE all sung Hum Honge Kamyaab in school, and most probably the original English We Shall Overcome as well. While the lyrics and melody are familiar, most children (and adults) aren't fully aware of the context behind the song, and what it stands for in the last seven decades.

Music has often been a way for the oppressed to express themselves with less fear of retribution than open protest. It has helped people rally together, support one another, and hold the shared belief that things can and will get better – someday.

The origins of We Shall Overcome are said to go as far back as the 1700s, where it developed as part of the repertoire of spirituals, sung by African-American slaves. The first time the song was used in a form similar to what we know today, was in the 1940s, when African-American women working on Tobacco Plantations in South Carolina went on strike, seeking a pay raise. From there, the song was learnt by other pro-union and labour activists, and eventually became popularised by American folk singer Pete Seeger. Seeger modified the lyrics and melody, and it took the shape we know today. Through his performances, group singing and activism, the song became the anthem of the civil rights movement. It was used by groups marching for voting rights, and for peacefully protesting. There is recorded footage of American protestors singing this as they were attacked by police dogs and taken to jail for violating segregation laws. In 1963, Joan Baez sang the song to 3,00,000 protestors in front of the Lincoln Memorial.

In 1965, the American President Lyndon Johnson used the words "we shall overcome" in a public address, and in 1968, Martin Luther King Jr. used them in his final sermon, few days before his assassination. We Shall Overcome will forever be tied to the American identity fighting for civil rights.

In the rest of the world, the power of the song, and the idea of solidarity through music caught on, and was used extensively through Northern Ireland's civil rights movement, Czechoslovakia's Velvet Revolution, China's Tiananmen Square protests, and in other coutries like Bangladesh, South Korea and Lebanon.

In India, it has been translated to many languages, from Hindi, Malayalam, Bengali to Kannada, and is sung as a patriotic song, and as a song of victory and camaraderie. As we continue to sing it with pride, we should always remember the struggle it represented.

THE PILLARS OF KANTARA

A SHARADHAA

THE village named Keradi in Kundapura taluk has become the talk of the town, thanks to the film Kantara, which is set in and around the place. Directed by Rishab Shetty, the film touches upon human-nature conflict. Bankrolled by KGF producer Vijay Kiragandur under Hombale films, the interesting star cast and the technicians have created the right kind of buzz.

We talk to the offscreen heroes of Kantara – the composer, cinematographer, art director, and costume designer.

"KANTARA IS A CULTURE-BASED, FOLKLORE FILM," SAYS AJANEESH B LOKNATH

Ajaneesh B Loknath, one of the busiest music directors of the Kannada industry is in the spotlight now for his latest hits Vikrant Rona and Guru Shishyaru. His next, Kantara directed by Rishab Shetty is equally gaining attention. Sharing his experience of scoring music in Rishab Shetty's directorial, Ajaneesh says, "In musical context Kantara as a culture-based, folklore film." Though the composer had previously worked in the genre in films like Rangitaranga and Ulidavaru Kandhante, he says the music in Kantara is different from the other films. "The music for Rishab Shetty's film is very deep. We have gathered 30 to 40 musicians, approximately 10 in a group, residing in and around Kundapura, to play for us and we got at least 40 hours of recording, which is mostly used as the background score. The film's tagline is Danthakathe, which means legendary story, so we had to stay rooted to the culture of the '90s." He adds that the background score excites him more than songs as there is immense scope for experimentation.

Team Kantara took guidance from Mime Ramdas, who has deep knowledge of folklore music. "Daivaradhane, a multifaceted art is incorporated in the film, and folklore music is also represented using Janapada songs and traditional instruments. Songs that are usually sung by common people during harvest and the songs that were popular among the Adivasis were used as a part of the album and the background score.

KANTARA HAS THREE TIMELINES AND COSTUMES ARE DESIGNED ACCORDINGLY: PRAGATHI SHETTY

The film is set in the '90s, and a lot of work went into designing the costumes to match that period," says costume designer, Pragathi Shetty. Her travel with the project began at the time when the writer-director Rishab, also her husband, came up with a one-liner for the film. "Kantara has three timelines – 1890, the 1970s, and 1990s – and since the story revolves around the tribal community, we had to bring in authenticity to the costumes and make them look realistic. Since we didn't have many references through books, Rishab and the team travelled the entire village and met the tribal community, who gave details about their dress. We had most of the junior artists roped in from Kundapura, and it was a challenge for me to convince them to wear tribal costumes. We also took reference to design the costume for the forest guard, played by Sapthami Gowda. We heard each year, the colour of the uniform would change, and everything, including the badges was customised," says Pragathi.

KANTARA HAS HELPED ME TO GET A BREAK IN THE MALAYALAM INDUSTRY: ARVIND KASHYAP

Cinematographer Aravind Kashyap, a true-blue Bengalurean shares that capturing the essence of the land and culture of the coastal belt was his biggest challenge. "My travel with Rishab Shetty from the pre-production time helped me do detailed research and figure out the right lighting for the '90s period. We didn't want to alienate the culture in the name of cinematic liberty. For the first time, we shot inside the woods, and in an uncontrolled environment. We were always warned of snakes and other creatures in the surrounding. We shot in four forest locations and were learning on the go, and each time we got a better clarity," says Arvind, who had previously associated with Rakshit Shetty's 777 Charlie.

The cinematographer says that Kantara has a lot of edge-of-the-seat moments, and the interval block especially will be a big treat to witness on screen. The film will be a complete theatrical experience. Arvind, who has worked in 7 films, says he used to get recognition for his work, but Kantara has taken him a notch higher. "The film has helped me get a break in the Malayalam industry. A filmmaker from Mollywood, who watched the teaser of this film, has offered me to join his film, which I consider to be a big break," says Arvind Kashyap.

A LOT OF NATURAL SOURCES WERE USED TO CREATE THE SET OF KANTARA: DARANI GANGEPUTRA

For art director Darani Gangeputra, the biggest challenge was to keep his work as close to nature as possible. "We had created an entire village using a set inside the forest matching the '90s. We had to create a structure to represent the traditional houses of the oppressed community, which vary in height. The locals helped us get a better understanding of the environment and atmosphere of that period. We had a miniature set-up, which was done in consultation with director Rishab Shetty and DoP. A lot of natural sources were used to create the setups," says Darani, who goes on to reveal that a tree of 60-feet in height, will be a highlight. "Apart from this, we created a school, temple, and a tree house. We had 35 people from Bangalore and 15 people from the Keradi village, who helped us to study the culture, says Darani.

Ram Setu gears up for Diwali release

CE FEATURES

It has been announced that Akshay Kumar's Ram Setu will release on October 25, coinciding with Diwali. Akshay Kumar took to Instagram on Monday to reveal a new poster and teaser of the film. Ram Setu also stars Jacqueline Fernandez and Nushratt Bharuccha.

The teaser opens with Akshay Kumar, long-haired, spectacled, playing an archaeologist. "We have just three days to save Ram Setu," he announces. There is a barrage of images then, showing some sort of militia hell-bent on destroying Ram Setu. Akshay Kumar is also seen in a high-tech diving suit. The action jumps from a desert to a bridge. Towards the end, some divers can be seen underwater, with Akshay's voice echoing, "Approaching Ram Setu."

While sharing the teaser, Akshay wrote, "First glimpse of Ram Setu just for you. Made this with a lot of love, hope you like it." Ram Setu is directed by Abhishek Sharma. Presented by Prime Video in association with Cape of Good Films, Lyca Productions and Abundantia Entertainment Production.

ANUSKHA KAUSHIK TO STAR IN PATNA SHUKLA

CE FEATURES

ANUSHKA Kaushik, who was last seen in the web series Ghar Waapsi and Crash Course, has been roped in to play a pivotal role in Raveena Tandon-starrer Patna Shukla.

The actor revealed that she had put extra effort to learn Bhojpuri. She noted that even when she was not sure if she could do justice to the role, the makers were confident about her. "They said that they have seen me doing different characters and they are sure that I can pull off this dialect as well. Yet, I asked them for a day during which I watched a lot of Bhojpuri content to prepare, and then gave the audition," she said.

Speaking about the character, Anushka said it is a role parallel to Raveena Tandon. "I have never been a part of any story set in Patna or even visited the city, but I know to prepare for this role, I would love to go there. The journey of this character is very different, yet it still has some relatability with the real Anushka."

The film also stars Satish Kaushik, Chandan Roy Sanyal and Jatin Goswami. The film is set to release next year.

Apple TV+ and Oprah Winfrey end multiyear content deal

CE FEATURES

THE multiyear content deal between Apple TV+ and Oprah Winfrey, which began in 2018, has ended. However, both the parties will continue to collaborate on project-by-project basis.

The news on the end of the deal comes after the streaming platform released the documentary based on Sidney Poitier, Sidney, on Friday. The documentary resulted from the collaboration between Oprah and Apple TV+ and was directed by Reginald Hudlin.

While Winfrey has already made The Oprah Conversations and The Me You Can't See for the streaming platform, and Oprah's Book Club for Apple Books, she has also collaborated with Harpo to produce Oprah with Meghan and Harry and Adele One Night Only for CBS.
